$3,405,900 sewer grant; 300 near Gov. Walker

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer
The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has approved a $3,405,900 grant for construction of Quad-City sewer lines, the beginning of the proposed four-township sanitary sewer program, those attending Gov. Daniel Walker's accountability session here last night were told.

The governor appeared in the cafeteria of Granite City High School North before an audience of about 300 persons for his 28th such session since he became governor.

Word of the sewer funding came from Walker, "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township, who told the governor, "I had a question for you today, but it was answered before I got here. Don Sutton of the Illinois EPA said the state granted approval today to our interceptor sewers."

"We are more than happy the EPA has seen fit to fund this part and we hope to be in line for collector (sewer) funding in 1975," Supervisor Sparks said. Right-of-way easement acquisition is expected to begin soon.

Gov. Walker replied jokingly, "I told him (Sutton) to call you today so you wouldn't be on my back tonight."

The governor fielded questions on 30 other subjects during the 80-minute session, including one from Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor and chairman of the Madison County Board, on why the state sought to dictate to the county that a major new jail is needed and then advised that only a small detention facility should be built.

Hagnauer told Walker, "The (state) Department of Corrections and our county are having a misunderstanding. DOC sent us a letter telling us about the problem with our jail and saying they would condemn our jail if we did not start immediately planning for a new one."

"We asked for time. We met with people. Last week I found out in the newspaper—which I did not feel was the right place to find it out—that the state did not feel we should build a (large) jail. We should go in with St. Clair County."

Hagnauer continued, "I think what they did was overbuild the jail at St. Clair County and now they want us to help pay for it."

Walker responded, "Somebody in the Department of Corrections must be throwing his weight around. I will check into it. If Madison County wants its own jail and wants to pay for it, then it should have one."

The governor said he supports an Illinois site for a new major St. Louis area airport and commented, "We're going to keep the reassurances on and hope we don't lose out just because we have a Democratic governor."

He said he and Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan have "worked very hard on that issue. The FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) has recommended an Illinois location. DOT (the U.S. Department of Transportation) now must decide."

He said Missouri officials have been exerting "a good deal of pressure" but added that Illinois officials are working equally hard for a decision in their favor.

Walker flatly rejected a request that he support the state's bikeway funding bill. His answer was viewed as disappointing to those who have supported a new nature trail from Pontoon Beach to Edwardsville and who hoped to complete a concrete strip along the route for bicycles, funded through the state bikeway program.

The governor said he could try to elude the problem, but he would prefer to answer it directly and honestly.

"I vetoed a bill for $4 million for bikeways last year and I'm afraid I can't see it in the budget this year," Walker said.

Sign tax opposed

An amended city ordinance under which Granite City is assessing an annual permit fee of $25 for each sign erected by businesses to advertise their services or wares has aroused considerable opposition among many merchants and tavern operators, it was reported here today.

The ordinance amendment, enacted by the City Council nearly two months ago, increases the permit fee of the original ordinance from $5 per year for signs of less than 15 square feet and $5 for signs of more than 15 square feet, to a fee of $25 for each sign, regardless of size.

In addition the amendment provides a similar $25 fee for overhanging signs or canopies and requires a $100,000 bond for each business having overhanging signs or canopies to protect the city against liability from accident.

Robert Kelly, city building inspector, has the job of enforcing the revised ordinance, and Kelly admits the assignment is a tough one.

First, Kelly said, the previous ordinance charging the smaller permit fee for signs, was not enforced by prior ad ministrators.

Walker apparently was done in the past to collect the fee for a building permit to erect

Madison to get street funds

By WALTER F. STRANGE

Press-Record Staff Writer
Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk informed the Madison City Council Tuesday night that in addition to $600,000 approved for Collinsville Avenue street improvements in 1975, an additional $335,000 for street improvements in other parts of the city in 1978 has been approved by the Department of Transportation.

The funds would be allotted under the new Federal Aid to Urban Systems program.

Collinsville Avenue will be paved, complete with curbs and gutters from McCambridge Avenue to Madison Avenue. Work is scheduled to begin next year.

Alderman John Haynes said, "I am all in favor of the improvements on Collinsville Avenue, but I want to remind everyone there is still a stormwater drainage problem West of Madison and I want you all to keep that project in mind."

Mayor Sasyk assured Haynes that action to correct the problem would be taken, and that he would meet with Haynes and Superintendent of Streets Elmer Smith to discuss possible ways of correcting the problem.

John Belloff, city clerk, was reappointed as Madison representative to the Tri-City Regional Port Authority by council action.

Belloff currently is chairman of the Port Authority.

Police Commissioner Stanley Skubish was reappointed to a three-year term on the Board of Police Commissioners.

Mayor Sasyk told the council he would submit a candidate for appointment as Civil Defense director at the next council meeting.

Sasyk asked the council to approve the buying of asphalt from Macclair Asphalt Co., Collinsville, rather than the low bidder Asphalt and Concrete Co. of St. Louis. The Asphalt company workers are on strike and there is no indication when the strike will end, he said.

The council agreed that rather than delay the needed street repairs the purchase should be made from Macclair. It was felt that after the strike, the St. Louis firm may increase its prices.

Resolutions were passed calling for condemnation proceedings on property located at 1422 Sixth St. and 908 Grand Ave.

Gitchoff on tax board

Andrew C. Gitchoff, 2659 State St., a realtor and insurance agent, was named yesterday as one of three members of a new Madison County Board of Review.

The other members named were Robert Coultas of Edwardsville and Gilbert Heil of Alton. Their terms are to begin June 1. Gitchoff serving a two-year term and Coultas and Heil appointed for one year.

They replace the old board composed of Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor and chairman of the Madison County Board; Virgil Bardeimer, supervisor of Pin Oak Township, and Donald McLean of Edwardsville.

Democratic Central Committee.

The new appointments were made by Hagnauer and were confirmed by the county board at its meeting in Edwardsville yesterday.

Makeup of the board was changed after a new state law was passed requiring all members of boards of review to pass tests on assessment given by the Office of Financial Affairs of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs.

The test was administered for Madison County March 28, with six applicants qualifying for appointment. Others who qualified, besides those appointed, were Edward Holzweg

Northland annexation

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer
Annexation issues involving plans for two major residential developments in separate areas of northeast Granite City prompted long debate by the City Council Monday night, ending with approval of one request and a delay in action on the other until council members can obtain more information.

The aldermen approved a request for city acceptance of a plat for subdivision of an area between D'Lynn and Shirlene drives and Hamilton Drive and Harrison Avenue "for development of Northland Estates No. 4 and Northland Estates No. 5, on a petition by George Arnold and F. David Foreman.

That action followed assurances by Irvin Slate, attorney representing the two petitioners, that a petition to annex the area to Granite City would be filed with the City Plan Commission if the plat and its plan for stormwater drainage were accepted.

In another action, however, the council decided to defer action on a petition by the Morris Investment Co. for annexation of a 22.6-acre tract of now vacant land in an area between Stratford Lane, Mockingbird Lane, Worthen Park and a point south of Parkview Drive.

While the petition for annexation first was presented along with an annexation ordinance, and a motion made to place both on first reading, the motion later was withdrawn in favor of deferment until a future meeting.

The resolution for approval of the plat and drainage plans for the Northland Estates additions brought objections from Alderman Sam Whitmer that the area should be presented for annexation if the council were to be asked to approve the plat and drainage plan.

Slate, who was given permission to address the council, told the aldermen that Arnold and Foreman had made a commitment to request annexation if the plat were approved. Slate said the Northland Estates developments would mean construction of 52 homes in the two additions.

"These residences are to be fine homes and the subdivisions will be a valuable addition to Granite City," Slate told the council.

Whitmer, however, noted that annexation, when it is requested, will hinge upon the area being contiguous to the boundaries of Granite City. He said that the area is contiguous to the north boundaries of the Maryville School property and that annexation of the school property to Granite City is under question in a circuit court case.

Expo hall advances

Senate Bill 166, which would create an Exposition and Performing Arts Authority in this region, has cleared a major hurdle in the Illinois House, State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene announced this week.

The bill, with amendments, was passed by the House Rules Committee by a vote of 13-2, making it eligible for consideration in the current session of the legislature.

"After all the long hours put in trying to get this bill considered, this action by the House is gratifying," Vadalabene said.

"Actually, the amendments added in the committee are going to strengthen our chances, since they create similar authorities for Springfield, Rockford and Peoria."

"With the fine efforts that have gone behind the bill by Rep. Horace Calvo of this district, we now have legislators helping it from these other areas. It is an idea that seems to have caught on very well."

"It looks like this major economic and cultural asset to the area will soon become a reality, without any additional taxation needed."

"With this bill, the state would stand behind the revenue bonds creating a 'Metro-East Exposition and Performing Arts Authority,' Sen. Vadalabene concluded.

A major exposition hall and cultural center would be built in the Madison-St. Clair Counties area, with state participation on the same basis as that for McCormick Place Chicago. The local region is No. 2 to the Chicago area among all Illinois concentrations of population.

Observance of Memorial Day will be divided this year between two legally-specified days, Monday, May 27, and Thursday, May 30, as a result of

Scholarship to Arnold

Eugene Arnold, a senior at Venice High School, has been awarded a Shell Achievement Scholarship providing financial assistance for a four-year college education.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Arnold, Eugene Jr. was chosen for the scholarship by a national selection committee under the administration of the National Achievement Scholarship Program of Evanston, Ill.

Bob Drager, St. Louis district sales manager for Shell Oil Co., said the scholarship is one of ten offered in 1974 by the Shell Companies Foundation, Inc. through the National Achievement Scholarship Program. The scholarships are for black students, preferably those planning careers in business or technical fields.

Since its establishment in 1953, the Foundation has made donations of $23,209,500 in a variety of aid-to-education programs.

Arnold is the senior class president and the valedictorian. He is an Illinois Scholar, and also a member of the varsity

The ten Shell scholarships are among 124 four-year Achievement Scholarships offered this year to black students through the National Achievement Scholarship Program. These students have won four-year scholarships to the colleges of their choice, with stipends ranging from $500 to $1,500 per year, depending on need.

GC ok's $135,000 settlement

A settlement of $135,000 to resolve three years of litigation over the death of a father and son in an accident involving a city fire truck was approved by the Granite City council Monday night.

Acting on a recommendation by Assistant City Attorney Eric Robertson, the aldermen agreed to pay $135,000 to Mrs. Rae Marshall of Rural Route Two, Granite City, over a five-year period. The city will pay 6 per cent interest on the unpaid balance each year.

Mrs. Marshall was awarded a verdict for $170,000 damages by a Madison County circuit court jury last November. The city had instructed Robertson to appeal the case. Mrs. Marshall sought a total of $1 million in her suit.

The litigation grew out of an accident March 19, 1971, in which a city fire truck crashed into a car at 27th Street and Madison Avenue, resulting in the death of Charles Marshall, 35, and Darren Marshall, 7.

Under Monday night's action, the city will drop its appeal of the case. Robertson told council members that the city's total cost, including interest, is expected to be about $145,000. The council also approved a resolution authorizing the sale of a 20-acre tract of land off Route 203 south of Granite City for $42,000.

The site, formerly used as a landfill by the city, was offered for sale after Hugh Major of Roxana offered to buy the tract for use as a trucking lot. The city was required to call bids before the land could be sold, and Major submitted the only bid.

The council also authorized a call for bids to provide sanitation service pickups of garbage, trash and debris for the new year. The bids will be received in the office of Robert Stevens, city clerk, until 11 a.m. June 10 and will be opened at that time.

George Filcoff, city attorney, informed the aldermen that he had received a letter from the Illinois Commerce Commission reporting that an ICC engineer is making a survey of the condition of railroad grade crossings at the tracks on 19th, 20th, 22nd and 25th streets, and that the commission will discuss the problem with city officials after the inspection is completed.

City officials have complained repeatedly about rough grade crossings at tracks of the Terminal Railroad Association, Norfolk & Western, Penn Central, GM&O and Illinois Terminal.

The aldermen approved establishment of a three-way traffic stop at Woodlawn and Lynch Ave., with stop signs to be erected on the southwest, northeast and northwest corners. The ordinance requires eastbound and westbound traffic into Woodlawn and southbound traffic into Lynch to stop at the intersection.

A stop sign at 22nd and Adams Street also was authorized by ordinance. The ordinance requires traffic stops by eastbound or westbound traffic on 22nd street into Adams, and by northbound or southbound traffic on Adams into Adams Street.

Council members were informed by the state Department of Transportation that an appropriation of $12,500 in motor fuel tax funds for a location study in a proposal to build a grade separation between downtown Granite City and West Granite has been approved.

A resolution appropriating $12,500 for the study was passed by the council April 1 and was subject to state approval.

Midwest Armenian youth meeting here on weekend

The Granite City Armanian Chapter of the Armenian Youth Federation will be the host to the 10th Midwest Conference of the AYF on Memorial Day weekend, Friday, May 24, through Monday, May 27.

The Armenian Youth Federation was founded in 1933; primary aims are for a free, independent Armenia and to retain her religion, history and culture.

A determined people, Armenians have been able to maintain their national heritage through the close association of church, language, culture and organization, a spokesman said. The AYF headquarters is located in Watertown, Mass.

There are 30 chapters in the U.S. and Canada, with 2,500 active members.

The AYF has an annual convention, which will be held in San Francisco June 22 through June 30.

Also, the AYF holds an annual Armenian American Olympics which follows official American Athletic Union rules. The Olympics are held over the Labor Day weekend.

This year, the Chapter in Worcester, Mass., will host the athletic events. Chapters are divided into five areas. The Midwest, one of the five, is comprised of the following cities: Cleveland, Ohio, Detroit and Grand Rapids, Mich., Racine, Wis., Waukegan, Chicago and Granite City, Ill., and Bettendorf, Iowa.

Delegates and guests will be registering at the Ramada Inn, 9338 Natural Bridge, St. Louis. The schedule follows:

Friday—Registration and welcoming party.

Saturday—The conference which will be conducted by Michael Hagopian, Granite City, Midwest Regional president. The meeting is open only to AYF members and the members of the parent organization of the AYF, known as ARF.

On Saturday evening there will be a party for alumni members at the Ramada Inn's Lincoln Room from 7:30 until 11:30.

A dance featuring Hagopian and his ensemble from Detroit will provide entertainment in the Lincoln Room.

Sunday—Church services at St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Church, 1735 Maple St., Granite City.

City, with the Rev. Khoren Habeshian officiating.

Following church services, there will be an Armenian Independence Day picnic hosted by the ARF Chapter at the ARF Garden, 821 Niedringhaus Ave.

Golf prizes were awarded as follows: Traveling trophy—Dave Knollman, lowest gross score, 73.

On Sunday evening, a trip aboard the S.S. Admiral excursion vessel is planned.

Monday—A farewell party at the AYE Clubroom, 821 Niedringhaus, Granite City.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Lydia Atkinson, three sons, Larry, Keith and Craig Atkinson, all of Granite City; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas (Eva) Healy and Mrs. Homer (Alma) Brown, both of Granite City; and Mrs. Joseph (Ruth) Clouse of Royal Palm Beach, Fla., and six grandchildren.

Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Will former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie be an asset or a liability to U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy's effort to win the 1976 Republican Presidential nomination?

Percy's announcement that Ogilvie will head the lawyers' and businessmen's division of his Illinois organization was received with something less than enthusiasm by the senator's Springfield supporters.

There were very smiles and some wisecracks from those Statehouse Republicans who believe that the last place their party should place Percy is in the White House.

The generally accepted interpretation of the Percy naming of Ogilvie is that it is a move to strengthen his home-state power base by cultivating Illinois GOP conservatives who feel Percy is too liberal—and also to gain added support from the state's regular Republican organization.

But most Statehouse Republicans doubt that Ogilvie can do Percy much good on either count.

Ogilvie's successful drive to enact the state's first income tax cost him dearly in support from business and other conservative groups and the bit-terness lingers.

He is regarded as having little influence whatever with either the Republican State Central Committee or the Illinois Republican County Chairmen's Association.

The March primary provided sharp and clear reminders that Ogilvie's political popularity has not increased since his 1972 defeat.

The former governor also took an active stand in opposition of Mrs. Jeannette H. Mullen of Barrington for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, only to see her lose to Springfield's Harry Page.

Among Springfield Republicans there was a strong feeling that Ogilvie's opposition helped Page to win.

What specific role Ogilvie will play in Percy's plan to roll up a massive 1976 primary vote in Illinois remains unclear. But it is no secret that many of Percy's supporters hope it will be a limited one.

What they fear most of all is that Ogilvie may bring into the primary campaign some of the Statehouse aides who served with him as governor. The mere mention of this possibility causes Percy loyalists to groan.

Even before Watergate reached floodtide, there was frequent comparison in Springfield of Ogilvie's staff with what was becoming clear was an arrogant, domineering, self-important palace guard at the White House.

Although Ogilvie as governor and still today is held in general high regard, the high-handedness and stupidity of some of his staff is rated about equal with the income tax for making him the first elected Illinois governor in more than 30 years to fail to win a second term.

If some of the old Ogilvie staffers begin showing up in the Percy 1976 campaign, there will be many political watchers in Springfield who will kiss his presidential ambitions goodbye.

Boy injured riding bike

Timothy Goodwin, 10, of 2028 Beckwith Ave. was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for left leg and ankle injuries at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. He was released after treatment.

According to police, Timothy rode his bike from a driveway at Parish Street and Beckwith Avenue, Madison, and collided with a truck driven north on Parish Street by Billy G. Williams of Oklahoma.

HOUSE BURGLARY

Robert Ziegler, 425 Broadway, Venice, reported to police at 5:25 p.m. Tuesday that he left his house for about 30 minutes and returned to find the front and back doors of the house open, and a 19-inch portable television and a stereo tape player missing. There was no sign of forced entry.

Carl Atkinson dies at 65

Carl Atkinson, 65, of 2717 Cayuga St., a retired pipefitter, died at 11:50 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been a patient six weeks. He was born in Cairo, Ill. and resided here 48 years.

Mr. Atkinson was employed 35 years at General Steel Industries before he retired in 1963.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Lydia Atkinson, three sons, Larry, Keith and Craig Atkinson, all of Granite City; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas (Eva) Healy and Mrs. Homer (Alma) Brown, both of Granite City; and Mrs. Joseph (Ruth) Clouse of Royal Palm Beach, Fla., and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Girl, 19, child, 2, are missing

Mrs. Alberta Williams, 213 Harp St., Eagle Park Acres, reported Tuesday to the Madison County Sheriff's department that her daughter, Gloria Williams, 19, and her grandson, Andreas Williams, 2, have been missing since May 18.

Gloria is five feet, six inches tall and weighs 140 pounds. When last seen she was wearing red slacks, peach-colored blouse with flowers, black hush puppies and carrying a brown shoulder bag.

Mrs. Williams has asked anyone knowing the whereabouts of the two to telephone 452-7313 or contact the sheriff's office.

Venice schools face tax loss

Venice Board of Education members learned the district has lost $78,652 in assessed valuation for 1973, including $250,000 in valuation of Union Electric Co. property, at their meeting Monday night.

Assessed valuation for 1973 on which taxes collected this year are based amounts to $32,292,269, compared to $32,571,921 in 1972. A tax rate of $2.81 per $100 assessed valuation will be applied, only 1½ cents lower than last year's rate.

The board announced that graduation exercises for about 45 Venice seniors will take place May 29, with graduation of elementary pupils set June 13.

Formal action was taken to extend the school calendar to June 14 from the original closing date of May 21. The closing date of May 21, the required due to work stoppage by Venice teachers which concluded this week.

Installation planned June 26

Plans for the installation of officers on June 26 at Charlie's Restaurant were discussed at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison Rotary Club at the Madison Recreation Center, Madison.

Rotarians on the committee are Wade James, Tony Zedolek, Ray Edwards and Wayne Scannell.

Lack of regular attendance by a business meeting and Rotarian John Blasingame was appointed to contact the meeting to see if he wished to remain a member of the club.

Miss Irene Hackett, president of Venice Local 860, American Federation of Teachers, who was in attendance at Monday's meeting, protested a television news commentary which stated the Venice School District will lose a considerable amount of state aid due to the recent strikes.

She noted the board's decision to dismiss school on June 14 days is available prior to June 30 to make up the days missed through the work stoppage.

A high school English teacher, Miss Hackett also sought board clarification on graduation procedures, noting that some students may not have accumulated enough high school credits to graduate.

Venice Supt. John O. Pier and Board President Jack Tolliver said that all students with enough credits will receive a diploma. Some may have to return to summer school to make up work and will receive their diploma at the discretion of Lewis E. Sabn, Venice High School principal.

A breakdown of the tax rate as it applies to the new assessed valuation figure, with the fund, amount levied and rate listed in sequence, shows:

Education, $669,774, $2.65; operation, $122,520, .375 cents; transportation, $19,063, .062 cents; working cash, $10,324, .033; retirement, $21,008, .067; fire prevention and safety, $16,336, .05; special education, $13,087, .04; junior college, $3,031, .01; and bonds and interest, $38,950, .1243, totaling $915,033.

A bolt of lightning which struck near the Venice school building at 1:30 p.m. May 17 may have "kicked out" the relay system on a new walk-in freezer in the cafeteria, causing the freezing coils to malfunction and resulting in the loss of food items valued in excess of $600.

Supt. Pier informed board members. Cafeteria workers found the spoiled food Monday morning when classes resumed at the school following a work stoppage of four weeks.

Surplus food supplies, provided District 3 from federal government sources which were ruined, included seven cases of chicken weighing 224 pounds and valued at $172; 6½ cases of turkey, containing 279 pounds of meat and worth $276; 110 pounds of ground beef, worth $136; five cases of butter and 50 pounds of fish.

Supt. Pier said repairmen were called and the company from which the freezer was purchased was notified. Cause of the malfunctioning was not immediately determined, he said.

In other action, board members authorized tuition payments to junior colleges for Richard Beck, Donald Mangiaracino and Peggy Lee; renewed membership in the Illinois High School Association and gave the superintendent permission to accept bids for a government surplus turret lathe and a commercial potato mixer which has been replaced.

Approval was granted for purchase of a wheelchair, costing $725, for use by a handicapped student with the funds to be reimbursed through a federal program.

Supt. Pier said a total of $1,050 has been allowed for the equipment, with the remaining sum to be applied to the student's tuition costs.

The administrator recommended investment of an additional $42,000 from the Special Education Building Fund in a time certificate at 8 per cent for a one-year period. He said a total of $35,000 already is invested from the same fund and that $15,086 will be received in taxes this year.

Pointing out a rear wall at the Venice High School to eliminate seepage in the cafeteria can be accomplished under the Fire and Safety Code, Supt. Pier informed the board. A complete inspection of the entire building will be undertaken prior to work beginning, it was agreed.

Assistant Supt. Robert N. Vickers explained that with a minimum of additional training the salaries of two Venice teachers could be subsidized to the extent of $5,000 each under a special education program through the Illinois Office of Public Instruction.

One teacher would be required to instruct a Developmental Kindergarten program and the other a High School Social Maladjusted Class, he noted. Approval was given to investigate both programs further.

Payment of a bill submitted by Triangle Heating & Air Conditioning Co. for repairs to a rest room was withheld until work completed by the firm is itemized.

He and a group of boys who had been playing ball, went to Tower Lake at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Sunday to swim. As he dove into the water he apparently struck the bottom and suffered a broken neck. He is paralyzed from the waist down, according to a member of his family.

His friends noticed he was lying face down in the water following the dive, and his brother, Jerry Sedabres, and Mark Loftus, pulled him from the water.

Sign tax

the sign, and further fees were forgotten, Kelly explained.

As a result, those who are responsible for paying the new $25 fee are "taken completely by surprise," Kelly said.

In an attempt to comply with instructions by the City Council that the ordinance be "strictly enforced," Kelly and City Clerk Robert Stevens have prepared a list of all known signs and businesses at which they are located. Stevens then sends a bill for the fee due on the signs erected at the locations.

The problem has become particularly acute in the tavern business, it was learned today, because many taverns have a number of different signs.

Since most of these signs were erected by beer and liquor distributors, the tavern operators feel that the sign is the property and responsibility of the distributor who erected it in the first place.

The distributors, on the other hand, are telling the tavern owners that the sign was erected to advertise the place of business and the sign fees should be paid by the tavern owner.

Kelly said yesterday that as a result of these differences, he looks for a lot of the signs to start coming down.

He said that one Granite City tavern has eight signs, four overhanging the sidewalk and subject to the sign fee assessment. Many have three, four or five signs.

A check of businesses that will receive bills for sign fees indicates a total of 350 thus far, Kelly said.

He noted that the requirement for an indemnifying bond "is no problem" since virtually all businesses carry liability insurance sufficient to meet the requirement.

conflicting federal and state laws.

Ceremonies by service organizations and other patriotic groups during the weekend will be highlighted by services at 10 a.m. Sunday by Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 at the Legion Home, 740 Broadway, where white crosses bearing the names of Madison-Venice war dead have been erected on the Legion Home lawn.

Arthur Lindsey, superintendent of the Madison County Veterans Assistance Commission, will be the speaker. Kenneth Hinson of the Venice-Madison Legion post, is chairman of the program.

On Saturday, members of Madison Amvets Post 204 will lay a wreath at the monument at the Madison Memorial Recreation Center, Seventh Street and Lee Avenue, in honor of the area's war dead.

The annual Parade of Flags ceremony sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday in Memorial Park, 21st Street and Madison Avenue, across from St. Elizabeth Hospital, according to Mrs. Lena Kalpis, commander.

All organizations and service units are to meet at the DAV Hall, 1417 Nineteenth St. at 9:45 a.m. Thursday and parade to the park.

Mrs. Pat Macke, chairman of the event, said Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts in the Quad-City area will participate as well as the Quad-City Navy Mothers and American Legion Tri-Club Post 113.

The parade will form at the DAV Hall, 1417 Nineteenth St. and proceed east to Grand Avenue, and north on Grand to Niedringhaus Avenue and Memorial Park. The line of march will be led by Mrs. Macke, chairman of the Parade of Flags program.

Ceremonies will begin at 10 a.m. in the park.

Keith Curtis, vocal instructor at Webster and Stallings schools, will sing the national anthem and the firing squad and color guard of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. will participate.

A Marine and Air Force color guard and buglers from Granite City High School South Band also will take part, Mrs. Macke said.

Annexation

court proceedings filed by Namecki Township in 1968.

The alderman asked City Attorney George Filcoff if Maryville School "is or is not in the city." Filcoff said that answer will be decided by the court in a ruling on Namecki's court challenge, and that no one can now answer the question.

Dave Morgan, chairman of the City Plan Commission which previously had approved the Northland Estates plat, noted that the matter of annexation was not before the council at that time, but only the question of accepting the plat.

"The plan commission approved the plat and, on the recommendation of the city engineer, approved the drainage planning," Morgan said. "There was no question of annexation because that would be another issue entirely."

City Engineer Monroe Brewer explained that the drainage plan involves use of a retention pond that would hold stormwater until the new Route 203 drainage line is clear, and then release the drainage into the Route 203 line. He said this would help move drainage from the surrounding area which now contributes to ponding in Drobey Slough.

A motion by Alderman Ronald Coleman to accept the plat carried 9 to 3. Voting against the acceptance were Whitmer and Aldermen Frank Greenwald and Earl Baker. Voting in favor were Aldermen Walter Norn, Steve Basarich, Coleman, Roy Foulis, William Dallas, Everett Molen, R. E. Robertson, Claude Green and Clyde Boyd. Aldermen Gerald Parnley and Emerald Dawes were absent.

Although the petition for annexation by Morris Investment Co. gave no details of proposed improvement on the tract it wants annexed, Ralph Morris told the Press-Record after the council session that his firm has prepared a plat for development of 60 "Luxury-type" homes on the tract, each costing $30,000 upward.

City High School South Band

also will take part, Mrs. Macke said.

State track marks may topple

The lightning-fast Lincoln Field all-weather track on the campus of Eastern Illinois University at Charleston will be the scene tomorrow and Saturday of the 80th annual boys' state track and field meet at which GCHS South, GCHS North and Madison athletes will compete for top honors in different events.

Madison earned eight points to tie Bethalto and Lebanon for 10th place in the Highland district meet during the weekend. The Trojans' lone individual entry and one relay squad among the state qualifiers will seek to become the first Class A school (750 or less student enrollment) to capture the state track title in 49 years.

Carrying the Trojan banner will be Kelvin Boyd, 100-yard dash, and the 440-yard relay squad of Chris Stanley, Joe Young, Lamont Garrett and Boyd.

Granite City North earned five points apiece at Highland and qualified one Steeler for the state meet—sophomore pole vaulter Bob Sampson who placed second in that event.

Sampson, who has reached a height of nearly 15 feet in practice, is currently ranked sixth in the state among athletes in the pole vault event.

To win at Charleston he may have to go at least 16 feet to top Chicago Heights Bloom star Tim Johnson, who topped that mark in his district competition.

Granite City South's fourth-place district finish with 22 points qualified two relay squads and three athletes in individual events at the state level.

Warriors competing at Charleston are the mile relay squad of Dave Ruebhausen, Joe Ward, Jim Hall and Tom Schooley; the 880-yard relay team of Ruebhausen, Larry Haddix, Ward and Schooley; Schooley, 330-yard low hurdles; Terry, mile run and two-mile run; and Hall, 880-yard run.

Powerhouse Evanston, Chicago Lane Tech and

LaGrange Lyons are favored to battle it out for the last one-class Illinois High School Association track and field title.

LaGrange Lyons and East St. Louis Lincoln shared the team crown last year with 17 points.

Next year, the IHSA will conduct state track meet competition in two classes—A and AA.

Evanston, which has had somewhat of a lock on the crown in recent years—winning the title in 1970-71-72, is led by senior sprinter Joe Stewart, a threat to take individual titles in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Lane Tech, led by sprinter-400 standout Kevin Newell, half-miler Dennis Kern and a fantastic mile relay unit which carried a 3:17.1 in the Chicago Public League District, seeks its second team title. GCHS South was fifth in 3:23.5 in its district.

Lane Tech last won the state title in 1912 with 18 points.

LaGrange Lyons, led by hurdler Ron Sterenberg, guns for the school's fifth outright title and seventh overall.

"If we get a break in the weather, we have the potential for some outstanding performances," observed veteran Roy Gunnerson of Oak Park, chairman of the IHSA track advisory committee.

"The track is fast. You have to know it because of the four national girls' records that were set on it last weekend in the second annual IHSA girls' state track and field meet."

"The youth who beat him at Cahokia," commented Skubish, "placed third at state last year." Sampson vaulted 14 feet, the national record (16-11) is held by a Chicago Heights Bloom athlete. (Press-Record Photo)

Soccer to be first Belleville College intercollegiate sport

President H. J. Haberecker and the Board of Trustees of Belleville Area College have appointed Michael Moore as varsity soccer coach at BAC.

Moore is a 1967 graduate of Belleville Althoff Catholic High School. At Althoff, he lettered in basketball and golf. After graduation, Moore enrolled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Upon trying out with the basketball team at SIUE, he was given a scholarship and played for three years under Coach Harry Gallatin.

In his final year at SIUE, he was a member of the junior varsity soccer team. Moore was coached by National Collegiate Athletic Association Coach of the Year Bob Quaker and St. Louis Stars pro player Pat McBride.

He graduated from SIUE in 1973 with a bachelor of physical degree in health and physical education. Since his graduation, he has played on amateur soccer teams in St. Louis and in soccer leagues in this region.

BAC is leading the way for soccer in Belleville. It will be the first intercollegiate team Belleville has had.

"Recruiting will be tough because Belleville East, West and Althoff have not yet adopted soccer on the varsity level; however, other schools in the BAC district do field teams," Dr. Haberecker has commented.

Moore will be recruiting players in the St. Louis, Granite City and Collinsville areas during the next few weeks.

Interested players may contact Moore at 234-2901 or at 235-2700-Ext. 279 at Belleville Area College.

All home games will be played on the BAC main campus. Summer practice will begin in the first week of August.

For its first year in soccer, BAC is scheduling "some of the soccer teams around," Moore believes.

We will play the junior varsity of former National Junior College Champion Meramec of St. Louis, and also Illinois Junior College Champion Triton, and Forest Park of St. Louis.

The 1974 Dutchman soccer schedule:

Sept. 13 McKendree (junior varsity) here 3 p.m.
Sept. 17 4 Meramec JV 3 p.m.
Sept. 20 Forest Park 3 p.m.
Sept. 27 at Forest Park Tour-nament 3 p.m.
Sept. 28 at Forest Park tour-nament 1 p.m.
Oct. 9 at McKendree JV 4 p.m.
Oct. 11 at Triton 4 p.m.
Oct. 12 at Dupage 1 p.m.
Oct. 16 Meramec JV here 3 p.m.
Oct. 28-31 at NCAA Region IV tournament at Dupage

Mechanics will race at speedway

Auto racing's unsung heroes of the pits—the men who turn the wrenches on finely-tuned "volcanoes"—will take to the half-mile dirt oval at Tri-City Speedway here tomorrow evening in a special "volcanoes" race to highlight the late model and sportsman stock car racing program beginning at 7:30.

Defending late model champion driver W. Spalding of Pontoon Beach will battle some of the area's finest drivers in an attempt to capture that division's 25-lap feature race and stretch his lead in point standings. He now has 670 points.

Sportsman class titleholder Pat Walsh of St. Louis is seeking to improve his third-place position in point standings with victories tomorrow in that division. Walsh's 250 points are second behind the current leader, John Wolfmeier.

WARRIOR SPRINTERS (left to right) Tom Schooley, Joe Ward, Larry Haddix and Dave Ruebhausen. As members of the 880-yard GCHS South relay team, they finished third in 1:31.7 during the weekend in the Highland district and advanced to the state track and field tournament Friday and Saturday at Eastern Illinois University. National meet next for Allen and Tyus

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville track team has concluded an exceptional season, defeating Principia College 91-54 at Elsh, Ill., in the final meet.

The victory left SIUE's dual meet record at 5-1. Bradley University was the only school to defeat the Cougars, by a 98-47 score April 12.

SIUE tied Illinois Wesleyan and defeated Washington University, Blackburn College, Millikin University and Greenville College along with Principia.

"It was a good season for us, not only because of our record, but because we set 11 new school marks and qualified three people for the nationals," said SIUE coach Jack Whitted.

Those three are senior George Tyus of Madison in the 100-yard dash, junior Kevin Dooly in the high jump and junior Mike Allen of Granite City in the hurdles.

All three have appeared in the NCAA Division II championships before. Tyus qualified in 1971 while Dooly and Allen participated last season. This year's NCAA meet will be held May 27-31 at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

Together, the three athletes hold five school records. Dooly set the outdoor high jump record of 6-8 last year and cleared 6-10 in indoor competition this winter.

Tyus holds the 220-yard dash mark of 21.6 seconds set in 1971 and tied his 100-yard dash record of 9.6 seconds this season.

Allen set records this year in the 120-yard high hurdles (14.6 seconds) and 440-yard intermediate hurdles (32.2 seconds). Allen won the state collegiate intermediate hurdle championship by finishing first in the University of Illinois Invitational May 11.

As for other school marks set this season, freshman Kevin Walker of St. Louis broke three records to lead the team. Walker broke the steeplechase mark with a time of 9:55, the two-mile run in 9:52 and the three-mile run in 14:53.

Senior Carl Mason, a native of Chicago, set school records in the 880-yard run (1:54.2) and mile run (4:23.5).

Other school records were set in the 440-yard dash by freshman Greg Becker of Granite City (50.3 seconds), the mile relay in 3:24.3, the long jump by freshman Don Hittmeier (22-1/2), the triple jump by junior Dwight Williams (46-10/16) and the javelin by senior Tom Vogt (191-7).

Vogt's record came in the final meet of the season. The distance was good enough for first place, one of the Cougars' 10 winning times and distances.

Other SIUE first places were recorded by Tyus in the 100 (9.6) and 220 (22.3), Allen in the 120-yard high hurdles (15.5), Albert Musgravy in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles (37.6), Dooly in the high jump (6-8), Mason in the 880 (1:55.6), Walker in the mile (4:40) and three-mile (15:47) and the 440-yard relay team in 4:58 seconds.

State tennis play starts

Granite City South netmen will join 30 other district tennis champions from around the state in the 1974 Illinois High School Association boys' state tournament today through Saturday at Arlington Heights to make their bid for the overall team championship.

A major change in tournament competition this year allows all members of district title teams, plus winners and runnersup in both singles and doubles, to advance to the state meet.

Warrior singles player Bill Rusick made a clean sweep in district competition here during the weekend to help give the entire South squad a ride to the state event. Also competing for South at Arlington will be singles player John Bruch and the doubles teams of Mike Papes-Steve McCluskey and Bill Berger-Gary Osborn.

Because of the new format, a preliminary round in both singles and doubles will be played today. Survivors of that round and the top 18 seeds in singles and doubles will square off Friday.

Losers in competition tomorrow will be placed in a consolation bracket and will battle to determine consolation honors. In addition, semifinal losers will meet for third place and team points.

Last year, Highland Park and Hinsdale Central tied for the title with 15 points.

STATEBOUND NETMEN. From left, senior Frank Faulkner, junior Bill Rusick and senior John Bruch; two will lead Granite City South in singles competition today through Saturday in the state tennis meet at Arlington High School, Arlington Heights. Rusick's four-game sweep to the singles championship during the South district meet this weekend earned GCHS South the district title and the right to compete in the state finals as a team.

Track Trojans 3rd of 16 schools

"Hot and humid weather affected our overall performance," commented Trojan Coach Charles Steptoe after the Madison High School track team took third place with 13 points Monday in the class A 16-school "Meet of Champions" at Carbondale Community High. The Carbondale track and field invitational was open to only those schools which during the regular season placed first, second or third in a district, conference or invitational meet in which more than three schools participated. Cairo High School captured Monday's event with 27 points. Lebanon earned 15 points, MHS 13, DuQuoin 12, Flora 11, Triad 11, Sparta 8, Meridian and Pikeville four apiece, Carverville two and Clay City, Louisville, Metropolis, New Athens, Red Bud and Trico, none.

Madison pointmakers were by Kelvin Boyd, third in 100-yard dash (10.1), Willie Shearry second in pole vault (12-0) and the 400-yard relay squad of Chris Stanley, Joe Young, Lamont Garrett and Boyd, first (44.4).

Mount Vernon captured the Class AA competition with 49 points. Benton and the host school each earned 21 points for a second-place tie and Marion garnered 20 points.

Defending champion Springfield Southeast finished second.

Rose Braun of Granite City High School North was second in the 50-yard dash (.06.4) in her preliminary heat, but dropped to sixth (.06.5) in the semifinals, failing to qualify to advance.

Robin Detering of South High captured third in her first

Greenwald aiding Cougars with arm as well as bat

Most athletic teams have one player who has the unique ability to relax his teammates on the eve of an important game by his confident demeanor and knack of joking to relieve pregame tensions and bus-ride tedium.

Such a player is James Joseph Greenwald, rightfielder of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball varsity. The Granite City native is a key player for the Cougars, who have posted another successful season.

He has a talent for making his teammates laugh and relax, but Greenwald is definitely not a clown when it comes to his approach to the game of baseball and his performance on the field, other Cougars note.

His throwing arm is considered one of the greatest in American collegiate baseball.

Five times, he has cut down runners attempting to score on base hits into right field.

The "new" team's throwing arm among Cougar opponents must be: "Don't try to go against his throw."

At bat, Greenwald is having one of those mystifying seasons which plague all athletes, particularly baseball hitters. While he's battled his hitting average up to .284, a figure most players would be happy to have, Greenwald has seen line shot after line shot off his bat go straight to a defensive player.

In fact, his bad luck this season includes hitting into the only triple play registered against the Cougars. The irony of that blow was: it was one of the five hardest hit balls ever hit at Cougar Field.

The ball was slammed so hard, in fact, that the fielder literally was driven back by its impact from five to six feet as he made the catch, spectators recall.

Even if Greenwald weren't hitting .284, including the team high of eight doubles and four homers, he'd be "invaluable" because of his leadership ability and his dedication to Cougar baseball, his coaches say.

After losing football player-fallback for three seasons at Granite City South—Greenwald decided to come to SIUE because "I liked the way Coach Lee taught the sport, and I liked the way the Cougars played."

Schnefke to join Bucks

Steeler eager David Schnefke, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnefke, has signed a letter of intent to attend Lewis and Clark Community College and participate in Buck basketball next season.

The 17-year-old, 6-7, 186-pound senior center-forward will graduate next month from Granite City High School North and will study building construction at Lewis and Clark.

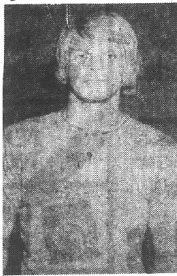

He earned two varsity letters at North, averaging 19.7 points per game and 12.3 rebounds, and is an effective outside shooter.

Bucks Coach Arnold Copeland said, "We feel his coming to Lewis and Clark gives us the big man we've been looking for the last three years."

"His height could counter the disadvantages we have had in the past against big centers of opposing teams."

Copeland added, "Area high school coaches indicate that Dave is one of the best center-forward prospects around."

Schnefke, who scored 33 points in a Steeler game against previously unbeaten Breese Mater Dei, helped lead GCHS North in its first season to a 14-11 record.

"He," Steeler Coach Bill Ohlendorf commented, "will be an asset anywhere he goes."

Your choice of in-dash AM/FM with 8-track or cassette for only $99.95

At CMC, we like to make a special purchase which offers you good equipment at a low price. Here's two special purchases we're especially proud of...in-dash AM/FM with either 8-track or cassette.

Recently, we bought a special shipment of the 8-track... sold 2,000... and discovered just how good J.I.L. equipment really is. So we bought up the entire U.S. inventory of the 8-track and also made a special purchase of the cassette (which we usually sell for $139.95)... So you can have your choice of either for $99.95. This is what you would usually pay for just the stereo radio!

We've found that J.I.L. builds power and rugged performance into each system. "Road and Track" (Feb. 1974) raved about their superb AM/FM reception... and they were right. They both have an illuminated dial pointer (on FM stereo), are completely vibration-proof, and are powerful enough to drive any speaker on the market. The 8-track has a switch for program repeat, and the cassette features fast forward and a front panel eject button.

If you're unsure, our audio specialists can help you determine which system is best for you. And, if you like, CMC offers complete, professional installation (available until 9 p.m. weekdays and 6 p.m. Saturday).

RETIRING BPW PRESIDENT. Mrs. Lil Marzluft, center, receives gifts from Mrs. Catherine Burton of Collinsville, president-elect of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, left, at the 53rd annual installation dinner of the Granite City BPW Club. At right is Miss Annellen Smith, new president of the local club.

53rd annual BPW installation

Miss Annellen Smith was installed as president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at the 53rd annual installation banquet held at the Holiday Inn East, Collinsville.

Blue and white appointments, candles and flowers in white bud vases decorated the dinner tables. Blue net balls centered with tiny violins were at each place setting as favors.

A large violin festooned with blue net, white daisies and blue ribbon streamers was the focal point on the speakers' table.

Mrs. Lil Marzluft, the retiring president, welcomed the guests and recognized past presidents of the club who acted as the installing committee.

Those honored were Mesdames Elvira Thurber, Verna Lengyel, Helene Buschoff, Mary Batson, Emylee Alford and Pauline Weir.

Serving as the installing officer was Mrs. Catherine Burton, president-elect of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and a member of the Collinsville BPW Club.

Officers installed with Miss Smith were: Mrs. Rosemary Baseden, president-elect; Mrs. Sylvia Wright, first vice-president; Mrs. Sandy Tadlock, second vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Walk, treasurer; Mrs. Lillian Naeve, recording secretary; Mrs. Genevieve Haddix, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Geraldine Brandley and Mrs. Lois Wetton, board members.

A string musical instrument was used in the ceremony and each officer was presented a miniature version, symbolic of her office.

Addressing the local club members, Mrs. Burton said "Society is beginning to realize what the BPW organization has known a long while... when women help other women they can accomplish the seemingly impossible."

She stated that programming is among the most important aspects of BPW by which new members are attracted and current members maintain interest.

Mrs. Burton challenged all BPW members to carry out the 1974-75 program, "Blueprint for Women," established by the National BPW Federation.

Miss Smith was presented a large basket of blue and white daisies by Michelle Anne Smith and Gene Swanson, small cousins of the new executive. Appreciation gifts and pins were given to the installing officer, past president and the new president-elect, Mrs. Baseden.

A musical program was presented by Mrs. Valerie Stevens, soloist, who sang "Edelweiss," and Frank Chapman, who played violin selections.

Mrs. Rebecca Slate and Mrs. Verna Lengyel, retired members, received "Shower of Violets" certificates from Mrs. Shirley Adams, membership chairman, signifying recruitment of new members into the club.

Miss Smith announced an executive board meeting at 7:30 p.m. June 5 at the East Side Levee Board office, and a dinner meeting at Charlie's Restaurant at 6:30 p.m. June 19.

Port area industrial sites urged

Metropolitan St. Louis's port and waterways problems must be solved in conjunction with other Missouri-Illinois regional problems, a consultant asserted Monday.

Cooperation of all segments of the region's resources is needed "in addressing mutual problems and opportunities and aggressively seeking supporting action," James E. Morehouse told directors of the Illinois Metro East industrial development corporation.

During the Roundtable Restaurant meeting, he reviewed a report recently compiled on the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis.

Morehouse is a specialist in transportation and distribution with the consulting firm of A. T. Kearney, Inc., Chicago.

The leaders of Illinois Metro East, a non-profit organization devoted to the area's economic growth, heard Morehouse review a first-phase report which has been submitted to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

"To effectively attract new facilities and encourage growth of the regional economy through water-related development," Morehouse said, "it will be necessary to make provision for such growth in regional development plans."

Federal development grants usually hinge on such region-wide planning, he noted.

Based on an analysis of the Kearney report, Morehouse recommended establishing a regionwide port promotion to market "the inherent strategic advantages of the St. Louis regional area to companies whose facility decisions may be influenced by them — including further penetration of the overseas markets."

"The prime emphasis in attracting industries which are major users of waterways transportation should be on suitable development of water-side industrial sites and providing such advantages as high throughput at docks, to justify the investments required by such industry."

Morehouse stressed a need for a port operations task force to improve critical lock, channel and barge fleet facilities.

Such a consortium of private and public groups also would be able to support vital efforts like improvements in the general level of rail service and in the increasingly favorable labor reputation of the St. Louis region, he said.

For the long term, Morehouse recommended development of a regional port organization to "assume overall responsibility to capitalize on the inherent strategic location and advantages of the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis."

Illinois Metro East is making an intensive effort to promote the growth of river freight traffic and to develop water-related industrial parks in this area, it was noted.

Its membership includes 130 individuals, businesses, civic organizations and governmental units in the 500,000 population, three-county area.

Shrine parade, circus in GC Sept. 4, Sept. 10-12

Ainad Temple has chosen September for its circus dates in 1974.

Chairman Bill Popkess, chief rabban, said today the Belle-Claire Fairgrounds, Belleville, will host the show on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 7-9, following a parade in Downtown Belleville on Sept. 6, the Friday night before the opening.

Granite City will have the annual circus parade on Wednesday night, Sept. 4. The L. N. Fleekles produced show will open at the Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki Road, on Tuesday, Sept. 10, continuing on Wednesday, Sept. 11, and Thursday, Sept. 12.

The circus was to have been at the Fairmount race track, but due to the fire there there was a change of dates and places. Previously, the circus has been held in June.

Potentate Charles G. Chenoweth has announced that this year's committees are already at work under Chairman Popkess, a Belleville resident.

"I assure the circus-going public that this will be the best Ainad has ever sponsored. New acts and thrillers await those who attend," Popkess comments.

"Ainad has been producing a superior show for eight years, and most of the customers are repeats because of the quality of the circus."

"Thousands of youngsters attend each year through the generosity of Shriners, who buy 'circus dads' tickets. Children from a number of Southern Illinois schools and hospitals are brought in for the show."

The Shrine, of which Ainad is one of 174 Temples, sends more than 6,000 youngsters each year to its 19 orthopedic hospitals as well as its three burns centers. The children are helped without regard to race, religion or creed.

All the money, $30 million, is raised by Shrine nobles.

St. Louis has one of the hospitals, and it is a 100-capacity center; Ainad sent 218 children to it in 1973.

The 8,400 nobles of Ainad Temple in Southern Illinois assist with the circus and the Temple units handle much of the circus labor.

"Each year, the circus has attracted more viewers, and each year the production costs have risen. Yet, the Shrine charities of Ainad continue to do their share," Popkess notes.

County reverses dealer ban

The Madison County Board Wednesday rescinded its vote of the previous month to discontinue all business with Bo Beuckman Ford of Collinsville.

The board was presented with an opinion from the state's attorney's office, indicating the auto dealership had supplied cars to the Madison County Sheriff's Office which met the requirements of the bidding specifications issued by the county.

The board last month indicated the air conditioners in the 34 sheriff's department cars were not "factory installed," as called for in the bids, and were of inferior quality to factory-installed units.

Donald L. Smith, assistant state's attorney, said in the opinion that the bids called for "factory air conditioning" or "comparable" air conditioning. He said the term "factory air conditioning" in the auto industry means having a unit installed of a type approved by the factory, which was done, the board was told.

Factory installed air conditioning, on the other hand, means the unit was installed at the factory when the automobile was built, he said.

Smith concluded, "...any action against the Ford dealer which provided the automobiles pursuant to the specifications and bids would be a questionable action as to beneficial results."

At the County Board's April meeting, members indicated they felt the dealer had not lived up to the bid requirements and asked the state's attorney's office to conduct an investigation. The board at that time also voted not to conduct future business or accept bids from the dealer, except for work done under warranty on the new cars.

After hearing Smith's opinion yesterday, Wayne Bridges, county board member from Roxana, commented, "From this it appears we got what we ordered." He asked that the April resolution be rescinded and the motion passed 22-2.

The board approved an ordinance providing for the payment of claims from farmers and others whose livestock or poultry is killed or injured by packs of stray dogs.

Under the county's rabies control act, a dogowner must purchase a $4 county license when his dog is immunized against rabies. By state law, one-third of that money, or $1.33, goes into a fund to reimburse those who sustained losses due to stray dogs.

Yesterday the county voted 10-5 to pay owners of animals killed the fair market value of the animal, as determined by National Stock Yards or other recognized market, on the day the loss occurred.

The maximum for mules or horses was set at $100. The ordinance stipulates that the amount may be increased by 50 per cent for animals of registered breeds, where the owner can show a registration certificate.

In the event there is not enough money in the fund to pay all claims, those sustaining losses are to receive a pro-rata share of the available money.

If there is a surplus of money in the fund, the excess is to be used to defray other costs of the program.

Payments are to be made the first Monday in March each year to those who sustained damages during the year.

Mrs. Sibyl Belliss, board member from East Alton, spoke against the ordinance, saying the state provides minimum payments to those who sustain damages from packs of dogs, and that the county would save money by using the minimum amount, rather than the fair market value.

She said the farmers should have insurance against such losses and that the insurance companies should have to pay the claims rather than the taxpayers.

"The state says we have to have this program, but we could use the minimum payment. I know of no other business where the taxpayers subsidize the business for losses," she said.

The board authorized Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, chairman of the County Board, to meet with officials of Fairmount Racetrack and see if any county programs could be used to aid the track in rebuilding the grandstand area and speeding the date the track can reopen.

It was emphasized that the county will lose thousands of tax dollars per year because the grandstands at the race track were destroyed by fire last month.

The board approved the purchase of several parcels of property for the right-of-way to extend Maryville Road from Pontoon Road to Route 162. Payments approved included $31,300 to Harry W. and Bessie Brinkhoff for .64 of an acre of right-of-way and .02 of an acre of slope easement, which includes a seven-room frame house.

The other payment was to the Alton & Southern Railway Co. for .63 of an acre of right-of-way across the tracks for $100.

The appointment of Wilfred B. "Bud" Eberhardt, 800 E. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, was approved. He is to serve the unexpired term on the Mitchell Fire Protection District caused by the resignation of George Bugle. That term expires May 5, 1975.

Several revisions to the requirements of the Sheriff's Department Merit Commission were adopted, one calling for mandatory retirement at age 65, another increasing the limit on the number of lieutenants from three to seven and the number of sergeants from three to 10.

Also approved was an amendment that sheriff's deputies may not "engage in any manner of employment not within the member's official duties as deputy sheriff without prior approval and authorization from the sheriff."

Last month a similar amendment was proposed but was referred to committee by the board to have a section deleted restricting the political activities of deputies.

A resolution was approved allowing the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency to operate helicopters in this area to measure air pollution as part of the regional air pollution study.

Permission was granted for three years for the helicopters to descend to about 200 feet above the ground and to sample the air at four locations, one over the Chain of Rocks Canal, one over Granite City, one in the Poag area, another near Pleasant Ridge and the fourth about four miles southeast of Troy.

A request from a woman for more provisions and benefits for handicapped persons was referred to the building committee for consideration.

A tentative agreement between the county and Local 79 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees also was presented to the board for consideration and for comments at the next meeting.

The board recessed until Tuesday, June 11 a date set by state law.

Major coal gasification plant hinges on economic feasibility

If technological feasibility can be achieved, plans announced in Wilmington, Del., in mid-May may lead to major Illinois coal-to-gas conversion operations.

Columbia Coal Gasification Corp. and The Carter Oil Co. signed agreements at Wilmington providing for early development of certain low sulfur Columbia coal reserves in West Virginia by Monterey Coal Co., a Carter subsidiary, and a future gasification opportunity for certain Carter coal reserves in Illinois.

Columbia Coal Gasification is a subsidiary of The Columbia Gas System, Inc.; The Carter Oil Co. is a subsidiary of Exxon. The agreements were announced simultaneously by Gov. Dan Walker of Illinois and Lysander Dudley, West Virginia commissioner of commerce, representing Gov. Arch Moore. Officials of both companies were present for the announcements.

The agreements, subject to the timely approval of governmental agencies, are as follows:

1. An agreement under which Columbia will exchange a 50 per cent undivided interest in 43,400 acres in Wayne and Lincoln Counties out of its 300,000 acres of West Virginia coal lands, in return for a 50 per cent undivided interest in 35,000 acres of Carter's Illinois coal lands located in Clinton, Bond and Madison Counties.

2. A West Virginia operating agreement under which Monterey Coal will develop and operate two underground mines capable of a combined annual production of 4.4 million tons for a 30-year period.

3. An agreement under which the Illinois coal reserves included in the exchange will be held in their entirety for gasification for Columbia, pending development of an economically desirable and technically sound gasification process for this coal. At that time, each company can elect whether or not it desires to participate in ownership of the gasification plant or the supporting coal mines.

Each company will provide half of the initial capital investment for the West Virginia mines, which is estimated at $20 per ton of annual production based on 1974 costs, and will separately market half of the coal produced.

The first West Virginia mine is now expected to begin production in 1976 and to achieve design capacity by 1978. Development of the second mine will closely follow the first. While definitive plans have not been completed, the reserves are capable of supporting a third mine of equal size.

Columbia Coal Gasification President R. P. Duemler said, "The Illinois reserves are adequate to supply a gasification plant producing 300 million cubic feet of pipeline quality gas daily for 25 years, or the equivalent of 2.5 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves.

"We estimate that such a plant would require an investment of roughly $635 million and employ 700 people.

"It would use eight million tons of coal per year which, in accordance with Monterey's estimates, would call for the development of three Illinois mines at a total capital cost of over $75 million and employing about 1,500 people.

"It must be emphasized that the ultimate conversion of the Illinois reserves to pipeline quality gas is dependent on the development of an economically feasible gasification process."

Duemler added, "These agreements provide for the highest and best use of Columbia's present coal reserves without diminution of its gasification feedstock reserves.

"Pipeline quality gas can be delivered to Columbia's customers at a substantially lower cost than from the West Virginia reserves included in the exchange."

Carter Oil President Harry Pistole said, "The transaction will make a positive contribution to the nation's critical need for supplies of low-sulfur, high quality coal."

He explained that coal from the West Virginia mines will be suitable for use by power companies or by the metals industry in the near term.

Monterey Coal Co. spokesmen said that when the two West Virginia mines reach full capacity they are expected to provide about 1,600 jobs with an annual payroll of $27 million. Robert H. Quenon, Monterey president, said, "We are confident these mines can be developed in harmony with the goals of the local communities, and we are committed to utilizing the best technology and practices to insure safety and protection of the environment." Monterey currently operates an underground mine at Carlinville, Ill., employing 400 people and producing three million tons of steam coal per year.

In a recent statement, Gov. Walker said, "The Monterey mine has proven that — with modern technology — a coal mine can be a good neighbor and operate in harmony with the environment."

GC police to mark bicycles Saturday

Registering a bicycle Saturday with the Granite City Police Department may not prevent it getting stolen, but it certainly can speed its recovery should the machine suffer the same fate as occurred last year to hundreds of bicycles, Officer Friendly Roy Koberna said this week.

Knowing that many bicycles are now registered with the police and therefore easily identifiable does act as a deterrent to bike thieves who become increasingly active as the summer months approach, the Granite City patrolman noted.

Youngsters and adults may bring their bicycles Saturday to any of three locations for the free marking, Koberna said.

Registration stations in downtown Granite City, West Granite and Nameoki have been selected to provide easy access to most local residents, he added.

Young people wishing to register a bicycle are being requested to bring with them a parent's driver's license number written legibly on a piece of paper which will be etched on the machine for identification purposes. Adults may have their own driver's license number inscribed.

Forms are available at the police department in the City Hall building in advance of Saturday, but are not necessary to register a machine, Koberna said.

Officer Friendly cautioned that police officers will be unable to register a bicycle unless the owner presents a driver's license number.

The downtown location will be the main fire station, 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, where bicycles may be registered from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

The same hours will apply at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

In the West Granite area, police officers will register and mark the machines at the West Granite fire station on Rock Road from 9 a.m. until noon.

Assisting local police officers will be members of the RSCA Young Men's Club, under the direction of Adviser Mike Jessee; Granite City Police Explorer Post 10-33, and a group of Cub Scout leaders representing packs sponsored by Washington and Logan grade schools, coordinated by Joe Williams.

A special bicycle registration file has been compiled by Officer Koberna, listing the name, address, phone number, age of owner, the bicycle's make, color, size and the specific identification number.

The driver's license number will be etched on the machine in different places, permitting speedy identification should the bicycle become lost or stolen and recovered, Officer Koberna explained.

More than 1,000 bicycles are registered to date, the patrolman said, adding that many bike owners already have learned the benefits to be gained from registering their machines.

He said the marking process takes only a few minutes and pointed out that considering the money invested in a machine by a parent or youthful rider, all owners should take advantage of the free registration service.

South ousted from regional meet 3-1

The dreams and hopes of a possible Granite City South state baseball championship were shattered yesterday by the second round of the Edwardsville regional meet when the O'Fallon Panthers defeated the Warriors 3-1 at the SIUE Field.

"Our boys," said South's Conrad Champion, "have nothing to be ashamed of. They turned in some fine hitting against O'Fallon."

"What hurt us in the game was the excellent outfielding by the enemy."

South out-hit O'Fallon 7-4 and made two errors to the Panthers three.

O'Fallon got on the scoreboard first with a run in the third on hits by Rick Murray and Paul Stroth.

A warrior attempt to edge ahead in the fourth, when Greg Linhart drew a walk and Paul Stroth blasted a drive to centerfield, was thwarted when the opposing fielder made a "circus" catch to stop the rally.

South scored its only run in the fifth. Mike Martinez got a two-out single and reached second on a bad throw from the pitcher to first base. Martinez scored on a centerfield single by Dave Dombek.

The Panthers got the go-ahead run in the sixth on a walk and hit by Mark Delvichio and Brian Holland, and added another in the seventh on hits by Murray and Rich Jones.

"We had a chance to tie it again in the seventh," added Champion, "but again a spectacular catch by the centerfielder left two stranded and cost us the game."

South's leading batter, Marjorie (more than 500 for the season) got three hits, Dombek garnered two, and Mike Stanton and Bob Shipley, one apiece.

Another hurler, Randy Schmittling went the distance on the mound. South started Bud Prazma and relieved in the sixth with Mike Stanton.

The loss snapped an 11-game winning streak of the Warriors and left them with a 17-11 overall record and 8-6 in conference play.

O'Fallon will meet Wood River at 4:30 p.m. today for the regional title at SIUE. Wood River scored two runs in the seventh Monday to eliminate Cahokia 2-1.

Wilson Park pool to open Monday

Wilson Park swimming pool will not be ready to open this weekend as originally planned. City Park District learned at a meeting last night. The scheduled opening now is set for 1 p.m. Monday.

Maintenance workers are expected to finish painting the pool interior today and filling operations will begin Friday. Harold Brown, park superintendent, said.

Two days are required to fill the 90x150 pool with 275,000 gallons of water, Brown said. At least one day is needed to allow the water temperature to warm to a mandatory 66 degrees, he added.

Pool hours Monday will be from 1 to 8 p.m. The facility will close Tuesday and Wednesday, reopening Thursday from 1 to 8 p.m. and on Friday from 4 to 8 p.m. Operating hours on the June 1-2 weekend will be from 1 to 8 p.m.

In other business at Wednesday night's park board meeting, commissioners heard two delegations seeking construction of additional tennis courts.

George Voegeler and Francis Herman, comprising one group, and Mary Jean Hilmer, speaking on behalf of five other persons at the meeting, all requested the board to include funds in the 1974-75 budget for at least two more courts.

Brown said a $30,000 cost estimate has been received to construct two lighted courts, similar to those already in operation at Wilson Park. Commissioners agreed to consider the delegations.

request at a budget hearing Saturday, June 1.

John Mink, treasurer, was authorized to publish the park district's annual report for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1974, and Brown was granted authority to purchase a 72-inch grass-cutting machine, at a cost of $850, and an electric grill for the Worthen Park concession stand, costing $152.

Obtaining fireworks for the July 4 festival at Wilson Park still has not been accomplished, Brown advised the board. The firm supplying the district previously years is unable to fill the order this year, the park officer said.

A drive-in seminar sponsored by the Illinois State Association of Park Districts is planned Saturday at the Holiday Inn, Decatur, Brown announced.

Sewer grant

Walker is, but in Utah, California, New York, they don't hear about him on the 10 o'clock news like they do the senators in Washington.

"I try to be realistic. I've got this job for four years and I'm going to do the best damn job I can, one day at a time, and see what comes."

Walker tried to stay atop the fence during a verbal battle on the floor concerning the Metro-East Regional Treatment Association plan for providing secondary sewage treatment to Madison, Venice, East St. Louis, Sauget and other government entities surrounding East St. Louis.

The current governing proposal is opposed by Mayors Mike Sasyk of Madison and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, while it is supported by Mayor James Williams of East St. Louis and Mayor Paul Sauget of Sauget.

Before noticing Sasyk and Ebersold, the governor produced Williams and said, "The federal government is offering $28 million for sewage work in the METRA area. Let government leaders can get together. It's not East St. Louis' fault, as Mayor Williams knows."

Later Sasyk took the floor, commenting, "I'm the so-called ringleader of the so-called secondary sewage treatment controlled by two cities (East St. Louis and Sauget). Their plan will cost $9 million (of local funds) and our studies show it should cost $5.6 million."

"They are proposing a quarterly sewer treatment of $12.50 while Granite City's tentative rate is $5.10," Sasyk said he would prefer to be linked to the Granite City secondary sewage treatment plant.

Walker responded, "If I were in the mayor's shoes, I might choose his course. That's a dispute that involves the federal government and the local governments. I would hope somebody could get together so you could get that $28 million."

He touched on one other point of common ground between the Madison and the Quads-Cities: the issue of toll bridges which are not paying for their maintenance due to competition from toll-free federal bridges.

Williams said the Martin Luther King Bridge has been losing money since the U. S. constructed the Poplar Street Bridge. He asked for the governor's support on the state taking over the bridge.

Venice Mayor Ebersold quickly interjected, "If you're going into the bridge business, the McKinley Bridge in Venice is for sale right now." Walker responded with humor, "I've already been offered the Brooklyn Bridge."

The governor also answered questions on drainage, food stamp programs, air pollution, lake acquisition, jobs, roads, the state lottery, train service, mental hospitals, police programs, landfills, and industrial expansion incentives and other topics during the session.

He told the audience, "I've enjoyed this session. I've had some real, real, tough ones around the state."

My staff advised me after I won the election to forget about that promise (to hold accountability sessions) after the first session. You can have lawyers and others help you research the answers," he said.

He told the audience, "I've been in sessions over the four years. I'm concerned that the average guy feels he cannot communicate with his government at any level. If this is a little step toward improved communication, toward opening up government, then it's progress."

Walker apologized for having

BINGO TAX USAGE was the topic of Mrs. Margaret Minzes, local Navy Mothers commander, at last night's session. Al Wilson assists her. Gov. Dan Walker replied that proceeds go to the state's general revenue fund. (Press-Record Photo) of Collinsville and Carl Miller and Norman Rosenthal, both of Edwardsville.

The board of review hears all objections to assessments in the county and makes adjustments where warranted.

Gitchoff is a native of Madison and has resided all of his life in the Quad-Cities. He formerly served as administrative specialist in the U.S. Army Air Force, as an accountant for H.B. Deal Contracting Co., St. Louis, and as an Internal Revenue agent before entering his own insurance and real estate business.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in commerce from St. Louis University.

He is active in the Lions, Elks, Moose, Eagles and Paddlers, is a past commander of the Disabled American Veterans and served many years on the U.S. House of Representatives.

He and his wife, Vivian, have one daughter.

The County Board voted to set the pay of board of review members at $40 per diem and set a mileage allowance of 15 cents per mile for members using their own cars for business and to travel to and from meetings.

Hays Mallory of Edwardsville, a County Board member, objected to the state forcing the county to appoint a new review board.

"Again we are being taken over by the state of Illinois. We had a good board, but, like our jail, the state is telling us what to do again," Mallory told the board.

Charles F. Bode of Edwardsville, also a County Board member, agreed with Mallory and praised the old board for its work.

Hagnauer commented on behalf of those who served with him. "The people picked by the judges did a good job. We have always had a tax multiplier of 1. I hope those I am appointing will do as good a job."

cancelled three prior accountability sessions here and took several questions after the scheduled hour was over, saying, "After all, three times I ducked out."

facilities for Granite City senior citizens organizations.

Under the transfer agreement, the township will provide 2,000 square feet of office space to School District 9, including utilities, for seven years.

Recommendations for a Girls Sports program for the 1974-75 school year, submitted by Miss Barbara Kerch, director of girls' athletic events, was approved by board members. The additional cost of the program would amount to approximately $2,000 for the purchase of uniform jerseys and warmup suits for the participants.

The program is being instituted under a new state and Illinois High School Association laws and regulations providing that girls be allowed to join boys' teams unless the district has similar active teams and equipment for girls in the same sports.

Miss Kerch requested the plan remain in effect through the 1974-75 year and that they be reviewed and evaluated again with the board of education before the close of school in June 1975.

Joe Fedora, director of athletics, requested the board review the pay rates for athletic officials that have been in effect since the 1970-71 school year and approve an increase for officials in various sports. The overall increases would amount to $87.50 for the year.

Board members agreed to the increase that would provide a starting base pay of $25 per session for senior high school varsity, $17.50 per session for sub-varsity, and $12.50 per session for junior high.

Included in the increased recommendation would be an additional 10 cents per mile from city limit to city limit for officials of basketball and football senior high schools.

Gifts accepted by the board members included a donation of 300 utility bills by the Lake State PTA, for use at the school, and funds for air conditioning the vocal music department of Granite City High School.

Proceeds from various fundraising projects sponsored by the vocal department, totaling approximately $5,000 will be presented to the board which will purchase and install the air conditioning unit.

The board also agreed to send a letter stating the board's opinion concerning an alleged conflict of interest of Carl Macios to Mrs. James Jackson and James Caudron.

Macios, who is a school board member and Nameoki Township assessor, asked the board to state in the letter that if any resident wishes to attend a board meeting for further clarification of the subject, he will be granted time to speak. Letters and petitions from Mrs. Jackson will be held under advisement, the board decided.

Homecoming booths available

Applications for both space still are being accepted by the Granite City Jaycees from service clubs, church groups and other organizations wishing to take part in the 15th annual Granite City Homecoming, scheduled to take place June 13 through June 16 on Pehling Road, adjacent to the American Village Shopping Center.

Interested groups are invited to contact Guy Cooper, at 876-1572, for additional information. Jerry Gann is serving as project chairman.

Live music will be featured each evening during the four-day event. Gann said. Midway rides will be offered by Ray Swayer, and local clubs will provide a variety of food and beverage stands, he added.

Meet May 29 on health planning

SKOTTY'S
JEWELRY & CARD SHOP
876-6414

The Alliance for Regional Community Health, Inc. (ARCH) has employed two consultants to assist the seven counties in Illinois Region IV in organizing for comprehensive health planning. ARCH is the area-wide comprehensive health planning agency for the City of St. Louis; the Missouri counties of St. Louis, St. Charles, Franklin and Jefferson; and three counties in Illinois Region IV, Monroe, Madison, and St. Clair.

Its purpose is "promoting and assuring the highest level of health attainable for every person, in an environment which contributes positively to healthful individual and family living" (Public Law, 89-749 of 1966).

To obtain this goal, ARCH and other comprehensive health planning agencies throughout the country develop health plans, with input from both the providers and consumers of health services in their planning region. Then, implementation of these plans is sought to bring about improvements in the health care delivery system.

When the governor of Illinois divided the state into regions for planning and administration of state programs, it was understood that only one health planning agency would operate in each region.

Since the ARCH planning area already encompassed three of the seven counties in Illinois Region IV, the agency was asked to assist these and the other four counties in organizing for comprehensive health planning. With the help of funds from the Illinois Comprehensive State Health Planning Agency, ARCH's Illinois consultants work with an advisory task force composed of Region IV residents to provide each community with information regarding comprehensive health planning.

A decision regarding the organization for comprehensive health planning is to be reached by Region IV residents by June 30, an ARCH spokesman said. Mrs. Genell Moore, regional coordinator of health service, Illinois Public Health Department, will be present at a Madison County meeting Wednesday, May 29, at 7 p.m. at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn to discuss possible health services.

The following are serving as contacts for anyone wishing to have more information: Ted Ellerman, assistant administrator, St. Elizabeth Hospital; Eugene Cowser, executive vice-president, Wood River Township Hospital and George Terry, Alton.

Members of the Kappa Alpha fraternity at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., have elected Phillip H. Sheridan of Granite City, as president and Brian Greathouse, also of Granite City, as secretary. They will fill those offices until February 1975.

Greathouse, a sophomore and son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greathouse, 34 Riviera Drive, also has been elected by the student body as corresponding secretary of the Student Government Association for the 1974-75 year.

Sheridan, a junior this year, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Sheridan, 2833 Grand Ave. He is majoring in English, and Greathouse is a chemistry major.

Memorial services at Lake View

George W. Lindberg, comptroller of the state of Illinois, will be the speaker at Memorial Day services sponsored by the American Legion Post 207 and other veterans organizations at Lake View Memorial Gardens near Fairview Heights, on Monday from 7 to 8 p.m.

Lindberg, a lawyer, has had a colorful career, serving three terms in the House of Representatives and thirteen years as vice-president and counsel for John E. Reid and Associates, a nationally recognized firm specializing in polygraph examinations. With Reid he conducted more than 5,000 investigations involving financial fraud. The service also will feature the national championship Black Knight Drum and Bugle Corps, the Collinsville High School Marching Band, the Catholic War Veterans Butz-Job Post 370 Rifle Squad, American Legion Post 34 Color Guard, the Gold Star Mothers and other veterans' organizations.

Mrs. Ester Petri, president of the Gold Star Mothers, will dedicate a wreath of white carnations and then cast it upon the water in honor of those who gave their lives in veterans' organizations.

Representative Celeste M. Stiehl of Belleville will introduce Lindberg, the Rev. Dr. Fred M. Cornell will pronounce the invocation and benediction, Russell J. Maxwell will serve as master of ceremonies and Elmer Floyd Krieg will introduce the commanders and presidents of the various veterans' organizations. Elmer Brotsch is program chairman of the event.

Lake View Memorial Gardens is located on Highway 159 near Fairview Heights. The public has been invited to attend.

SEMINAR SPEAKERS at the Razor's Edge last week were Bill Clark, regional representative of the New Man Hair Piece Co., left, and George Ryner, national representative of the company, right. They addressed a group of local barbers and citizens on new hair pieces, how to achieve a natural look using the pieces, proper care of them and how the hair pieces can be used while swimming and during other activities.

'Where Lilies Bloom' recommended

By GENTRY TROTTER
for KMOX-TV

A little stimulating meditation never did hurt anyone. But boredom does. Some movies are self-explanatory; others are the kind which make you hurry out of the exit door. Such is the case with 20th Century Fox's "Zardoz," starring longtime playboy and superman Sean Connery.

See it if you desire a long cheap trip into the twilight zone around the year 2293, surrounded by boatloads of imaginary glass houses, people who really don't eat food, people who never grow old and wonder what happens to the vortex, etc. Then you, too, will realize that this R-rated flick is in a category all by itself. "Zardoz" receives my quick exit of one four for poor.

From time to time there has to be a motion picture with a change of pace—a flick which bubbles with realism, one that you and I can relate to in our lifetime.

I am thrilled to tell you that I have bumped into one. United Artists' "Where the Lilies Bloom" does have warmth, sincerity and lots of humor. This G-rated film merits my seal of good clean family entertainment, matched with universal appeal.

Scouts to aid cancer drive

Local Boy Scouts, under the direction of G. Rollin Henn, will collect money Saturday for the Cancer Drive at traffic stops and in front of local stores. Scouts and leaders working the morning shift have been asked by Henn to report in front of Grant City in the Nameki Village Shopping Center at 8:45 a.m. Saturday. Those working the afternoon shift have been asked to report at 12:45 p.m. in front of Grant's.

Leaders are being asked to have as many Scouts as possible participate in the annual drive.

Price helping Illinois lead nation toward self-sufficiency in energy

Representative Melvin Price, dean of the Illinois congressional delegation, has sponsored a meeting of the delegation to discuss the role Illinois will play in developing energy self-sufficiency in the United States.

Speaking at the meeting were Jack Huebler and Thomas J. Joyce, senior vice-president and consultant, respectively, of the Chicago-based Institute of Gas Technology. At the meeting, the Institute reported that it had developed a near-commercial process to convert domestic coals to clean utility and industrial fuel gas. Known as low BTU gas, it can be an important component of the future domestic synthetic fuel industry, it was asserted. Such fuels will complement, but not replace, needed accelerated development of nuclear energy, synthetic natural gas production from coal, oil or shale, and other supplemental energy development programs, the gathering was told.

According to Rep. Price, the low BTU gas produced by the new process can be used in existing electric power plants in the near future and new high efficiency, combined cycle plants by 1980.

Industry will also benefit from large, energy-intensive manufacturing plants establishing coal-based energy self-sufficiency for process fuel, steam and on-site power, he said.

Price added, "The Institute of Gas Technology is currently operating a low BTU gasifier unit in Chicago which confirms design criteria for a proposed demonstration-scale coal conversion plant."

"Such capabilities, combined with the Commonwealth Edison low BTU gas program and the Northern Illinois Gas Company, State of Illinois combined coal liquefaction-gasification effort, would potentially provide Illinois with a complete coal conversion program unequalled in any other state."

Rep. Price reported that the Office of Coal Research of the U.S. Department of the Interior is preparing to select one of five possible national sites for undertaking a detailed environmental-economic impact analysis of a coal conversion facility on the chosen site.

One of the five sites under consideration includes Washington, Williamson, Perry and St. Clair Counties.

Cong. Price is hopeful that this Illinois site will be chosen "because of the natural coal resource capacity and so that Illinois will continue to be the key state in the effort toward national energy self-sufficiency."

Price, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, is enthusiastic about Illinois' future in energy matters:

"The development of low BTU gas from coal will reverse the trend toward the use of imported, low-sulfur coal within Illinois for power generation, provide the basis for early growth of the Illinois coal industry and the downstate economy."

"Preserve the export market for Illinois high-sulfur coal to neighboring mid-western states; provide incentive for new energy-intensive industry to develop in southern and central Illinois, and permit Illinois to lead the nation by applying technology based within the state to the increased use of her own vast coal resources."

LOOT RECOVERED

Burglars broke into the garage of Vernon Brown, 901 Fourth St., Venice, and stole two speakers and a tool box containing several sets of wrenches. It was reported to Venetia authorities last week. The loot was later recovered and returned to the owners.

Summer library program

The Granite City Public Library has announced plans for the summer Children's Film Festival under the direction of Mrs. Rose Bone and Mrs. Carole Canady, to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. beginning June 5 and continuing through Aug. 28.

All films will be oriented primarily for ages 3 through 9, with films once a month for all ages. They will cover a wide range of interests. The program listing is as follows:

June 5, for 3 to 6 age group, entitled, "Curious George Rides a Bike"; June 12, 6 to 9, "Beaver Valley"; June 19, 3 to 6 years, "Little Engine That Could"; June 26, all age level, "Doughnuts."

July 3, 3 to 6 years, "Frog-a-Went-Courtin"; July 10, 6 to 9 years, "Princess and the Pea"; July 17, 3 to 6 years, "Five Chinese Brothers"; July 24, for 6 to 9 years, "Hercules"; July 31, for all age level, "Sharks." Aug. 7, 3 to 6 years, "Jack and the Beanstalk"; Aug. 14, 6 to 9 years, "Ghosts and Ghouls"; Aug. 21, 3 to 6 years, "Boxes"; Aug. 28, for all age level, "Hound that Thought he was a Racecar."

In addition to the films, there will be other surprises for the children. Enough supervision will be provided that parents, if they like, may leave their children in the juvenile department while they browse through the main library, officials of the library announced. The library staff said "That with the Children's Film Festival, children will be stimulated to make more use of the excellent library that is especially for them."

The children's library is located in the lower level of the building. During the evening hours the 20th Street door will be closed, but children may use the main library entrance, officials said.

Hours for the children and adult departments are from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday. All programs are free to Granite City residents and $3 per year for non-resident family cards.

Hollywood doesn't have to give us those big named stars everywhere to melt our hearts. Just take real people and place them in a real situation, like a bunch of backward country kids trying to make ends meet without parents. I rate it as good.

I must tell you about a deep bottomless dip into nostalgia. The only thing Columbia Pictures' "Lords of Flatbush" will show are leather jackets, whips and chains, hopped-up rides, girls with curls, male hoods with greasy kid stuff, gangs standing around hammering out harmony, and finally most of the youngsters spending their time drinking malted milk and guzzling down beer.

The story is plain rotten, and the actors and actresses are unbearable beyond belief. The rating is poor.

Do you honestly think you can take a motion picture and make it into a suitable play? Yes, you can, and let me tell you about "Boeing, Boeing" at the Curtain Up Dinner Theatre.

The stage production may have a few disadvantages, like a hum leading man, and the incapabilities of letting one know what's happening to everybody at the same time, something only the flick world can provide.

However, the supporting cast of Martie Bucklew, who plays the funniest character, a maid, and a bachelor who finds himself in a frantic situation. Floyd King, make up for the shortcomings in the acting area.

Director James Peacock does what he can in making precise movements of his characters and presents almost the same excitement one would see on a screen.

The stage is a bit smaller, and that accounts for the shortcoming of that area.

The play is a lightweight comedy with lots of potential. Although the first act stumbles for a while, the second and third acts blaze into snickers.

The story about a man who enjoys scheduling three different stewards, planning to marry them all, bounces with some pretty good moments in enjoyable dinner-theatre. "Boeing, Boeing" receives my "see for yourself" rating of three fours for good.

KA-HO LAKE ESTATES

"The Affordable Vacation-Type Community"

Sometimes the best rewards in land investment can be almost right at home! One great thing about Ka-Ho Lakes is it's convenient location at Mt. Olive, Ill., and the fact you can be there and back on probably less than a half-tank of gas!

This year, when you plan your vacation, do it wisely with an eye to the future and invest those "vacation dollars" where you can have something left over of permanent value, yet enjoy each vacation or every weekend whenever you want.

Plan towards the future or build towards your retirement and do it the easy way... yet, still be close to home, your family and friends, instead of miles away in some far-off remote part of the country where, perhaps, you'll never see them again!

Ka-Ho Lake Estates is one of the rare private communities in Illinois that has separate areas set aside for campers, mobile homes, and permanent residences. Financing is available and can be extremely convenient because we do our own.

Call collect, or dial 1-217-999-7332 for an Appointment, and Nameoki town budget hearing 6 p.m. Monday

A public hearing will begin at 6 p.m. Monday on the proposed town fund, revenue sharing and municipal retirement fund budgets for Nameoki Township.

The hearing in the town hall, 4250 Highway 162, will precede the regular meeting of the town board which is set for 7 p.m. Monday.

Budgets which will be considered include a new town fund budget of $106,206, a general assistance fund budget of $81,960, an IMRF budget of $8,500, and plans for spending $109,500 from federal revenue sharing accounts.

Proposals include financing of the anticipated expansion and remodeling of the town hall, aid to the Long Lake Fire Protection District and the State Park Street Lighting District, environmental cleanup, health programs and other projects.

Some opposition is anticipated, as township electors voted at the annual town meeting against expanding and remodeling the township hall.

SAUSAGE TREAT HERE JUNE 2. This is the kind of pork on the hoof that will be purchased to make special sausage for the annual Knights of Columbus-Sherman dinner to be held at the St. Elizabeth Church and School grounds Sunday, June 2. The men seem to be measuring the hog to see how many pounds of sausage he will provide; they expect to feed 10,000 people. Left to right are Joe Burns, Grand Knight J. R. Vasiloff of the Tri-City K. of C., Tri-City Shrine Club President Al Schriber and Ainaid Temple Noble Clyde Landrum, who was furnishing the hog.

Zoning plea withdrawn

A request for rezoning of a lot at 3161 Myrtle Ave. to permit its use as a parking lot at the medical building was withdrawn during a meeting of the City Council Monday night after the petition had been denied by the City Plan Commission.

At a plan commission hearing earlier this month, residents in the neighborhood objected to the rezoning on grounds that the 90 by 130-foot tract would be insufficient for projected parking purposes and would result in traffic congestion.

Maurice Dailey, representing the petitioner, John Reese, informed the council by letter that after Reese was informed of objections to the parking lot project, he decided not to proceed with the plan and requested withdrawal of the petition. The council concurred in the request.

The council approved a plan commission recommendation that a special use permit be granted Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brawley for operation of a nursery school at 2032 Lindell Blvd. The special use permit was granted in lieu of an original request for rezoning the property to an R-5 classification from the present R-1 single family classification.

The aldermen also concurred in recommendations of the Board of Appeals for approval of petitions for sideline variations in five cases. They included:

Memorial Day topic of DUV

The Daughters of Union Veterans, Tent 90, met to discuss plans for coming events, with Mrs. Marie Boyd, president, in charge of the meeting.

Members agreed to participate in the Memorial Day observance on May 30 at the City Hall in Granite City and will place a wreath during the ceremonies.

Plans also were finalized for a Christmas party in June replacing a December event which was cancelled due to inclement weather.

It was announced the national DUV convention will be held in San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 11-15, and the state convention in Chicago on June 6-10.

Mrs. Sylvia Turner of Tent 90 serves as Illinois national aide. Mrs. Gussie Munsterman also will attend the Chicago meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Munsterman and Mrs. Boyd.

property line; Mr. Wells, 2450 Illinois Ave., to construct a garage three feet from the side property line.

Gene Kohuth, 2729 Saratoga Ave., to construct a two-car garage three feet from the side property line.

Dr. Patrick honored

Timothy B. Patrick of the Quad-City area, associate professor of chemistry at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been awarded the Mallinckrodt Foundation, Inc., Research Award in Sciences.

The award was presented during the weekend at a meeting of the SIUE Sigma Xi Club. Prof. Donald Myer of the university's biology department is president of the local club of Sigma Xi, a scientific research society of North America which encourages original investigation in both pure and applied science.

Presented for the third consecutive year by Mallinckrodt Foundation, the award has previously been received by Halsey W. Miller, professor of earth sciences at SIUE, and Annette Balch, associate professor of biology.

Dr. Patrick reviewed 11 research projects in which he is involved during the award meeting. Theoretical and synthetic organic chemistry and nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy are three of the areas in which he is chiefly interested.

The SIUE scientist gave highlights of some of the discoveries he has made with nuclear magnetic resonance and a new reaction which produces cancer anti-metabolites.

Patrick received his Ph.D. degree in chemistry from West Virginia University in 1967. He was selected by a committee comprising past recipients of the award and physics professor Laurence McAneny, former dean of the School of Science and Technology. Nominations were made by science faculty members and were not restricted to Sigma Xi.

Summer job directory

High school seniors, college students and teachers who want paying summer jobs can get the latest information from the 1974 edition of "Summer Employment Directory of the United States" just received by the Madison public library.

Employers list more than 900,000 summer job openings at resorts, summer camps, national parks, summer theatres, ranches and restaurants. Applications are invited.

The directory indicates there will be 13 per cent more summer jobs in recreational fields. All sections of the United States, except the South, show an increase.

A fourth of the salaries are up; most jobs include room and board, with many offering added benefits, such as laundry, travel allowance and end-of-season bonus. Employers are asking for people who do not use alcohol, drugs or cigarettes.

Steelmaking records being broken in GC

Commentary by Granite City Steel
To those touring the local plant May 17-18:
Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corporation, is as solid and well established as the flat rolled steel it produces. It is the largest steelmaker in the bi-state St. Louis region and one of the region's largest employers.

It is also a major source of the tax income which helps support public schools, local governments and other public facilities in Granite City as well as the rest of the Tri-Cities area.

Including land held for future expansion, Granite City Steel owns in excess of 1,300 acres in and near its plant.

After the mill was established almost 60 years ago, it began to attract other steel-using industries to the area.

Today, Granite City has a population of about 40,000 and a central location only nine miles from the world-famous Gateway Arch on the Mississippi River in downtown St. Louis.

National Steel Corporation operates steel mills at four locations—Great Lakes Steel near Detroit; Weirton Steel, West Virginia; Mill Creek Steel, Portage, Indiana (near Chicago); and Granite City.

These separate plants reinforce each other to the optimum extent—excess production at one being used to increase the output of another, thus enhancing overall corporate productivity.

By far the closest ties are those between Granite City Steel and Midwest Steel, 300 miles to the north.

Production, shipments and employment have increased steadily at Granite City Steel since the 1971 merger with National Steel.

Flat rolled steel—steel is the most useful metal known to man.

Nearly 40 per cent of all industrial jobs in the U.S. involve use or production of steel.

The various rolling mills which convert steel coils into finished products shape the steel into bars, rails, structural shapes, and more or all, into flat rolled form.

Well over half of all steel shipped consists of plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet, tin plate and other flat rolled products. Plants in which flat rolled steel is produced are huge industrial facilities. Steel is uniquely a volume business.

Everything about steel is super big and super fast; so much so, in fact, that seeing is imperative to understanding.

There is no other way to appreciate, for example, how Granite City Steel can consume more than 200 railroad carsloads of raw material or 75 million gallons of water in a day.

Similarly, no secondhand account can do justice to the drama and impact of 225 tons of furnace-fresh, molten steel pouring into enormous ingot molds.

Power and ironic grace of overhead cranes handling loads weighing up to 300 tons with relative ease.

Or the mastered velocity and speed of rolling mill operations. Granite City Steel carries all the steps in modern steelmaking.

Operations, begin with the assembly of raw materials (iron ore, coke, scrap iron ore) and the reduction of iron ore to iron.

Blast furnace pig iron, a material which is about 95 per cent iron, is refined to become steel in basic oxygen furnaces.

The steel, poured into molds, takes its first solid form in the shape of ingots.

From that point, the steel is passed through a series of reheating furnaces and rolling mills, to make it progressively longer and thinner and also to impart its physical and mechanical properties.

Other processing lines clean the steel, make it harder, and improve the surface, or add protective coatings.

Not all steel is the same. Granite City Steel produces a wide range of steel to precise chemical and physical specifications, depending on customer needs.

Maximum quality is attained by constant inspection and attention to each step in the steelmaking process.

To do so despite immense proportions, steelmaking requires more precision than even the most exacting gourmet recipes.

Future Growth Planned—Granite City Steel production and shipment records have been re-written almost monthly since early 1972 and more improvements and additions are under way.

One of two blast furnaces will be enlarged and rebuilt, increasing daily production capacity from 4,000 tons of molten iron to about 4,800 tons.

With more iron, the basic oxygen furnace plant at Granite City Steel will be able to produce more steel.

At the "BOF Shop," pure oxygen is blown onto a molten mixture consisting of iron (about 50 per cent), scrap steel and limestone.

A violent reaction burns impurities out of the iron and scrap, and reduces the carbon content to a carefully-controlled level. The end product is steel.

Completed in 1967, the basic oxygen furnace plant produces 235-ton batches or "heats" of steel in 50 minutes or less.

Given a large enough supply of iron, the BOF Shop is capable of producing up to 2.3 million tons of steel annually.

The ingots from the BOF Shop are reduced in thickness and width and converted into slabs by a powerful blooming mill.

The slabs then move to the Granite City Steel's largest and most modern production facility, the 30-inch hot strip mill.

Annual hot strip mill capacity will be increased to the 3.5-million ton range after a $10-million improvement, scheduled for completion in 1976.

A marvel of the industrial world, the GC hot strip mill is one of only ten such completely computerized, non-stop facilities in the U.S.

It is not a simple piece of equipment but a massive array of heating furnaces, roughing and finishing mills, coilers and other machines strung out single-file in a building almost four blocks long.

White-hot slabs are squeezed and flattened, becoming progressively longer and thinner, as they travel through the rolls of the hot strip mill.

After clearing the last of seven finishing mills, the steel bursts through cooling sprays at nearly 40 to 60 mph and finally disappears into the open jaws of a machine that winds it into coil form.

The end product is a flat piece of steel ranging in thickness from .0478-inch to 1/4-inch. Some hot rolled coils are transformed into cold rolled products—thinner, stronger and harder grades of steel—used in everything from the car to the space shuttle.

At Granite City, a "four-stand" cold strip mill reduces hot rolled coils to as much as 87 per cent of their original thickness.

Hot rolled coils from GCS and other National Steel divisions arrive at Midwest Steel and are cold rolled on two high speed "five stand" reduction mills.

Some cold rolled products are galvanized (coated with a layer of zinc to prevent corrosion) on the GCS galvanizing line.

Midwest makes wider galvanized products on two high-line mills and tin plating a new electrolytic tinning line.

A Unique Relationship—Foremost, the Granite City Steel-National Steel merger combined Granite City's excess hot rolling production capacity with Midwest Steel's need for hot rolled coils.

The result has been a unique two-plant relationship which begins at the top.

Howard M. "Pete" Love is president of Midwest and Granite City Steel and other executives have two-plant responsibilities.

A new consolidated data processing center in Granite City provides computer services for both Midwest Steel and GCS.

Located at Port Jeddah, Ind., only 35 miles from the Chicago Loop, Midwest Steel is in the midst of the tremendous manufacturing complex which makes Chicago-Milwaukee the world's number one market for steel.

Supplied by the wide hot strip mill at Granite City Steel, Midwest has been able to use its newly expanded cold rolling, galvanizing and tin plating capacity to the utmost.

However, Granite City Steel also has beneficial working relationships with other National Steel divisions. For example:

Although production increased eight per cent at GCS in 1973, shipments were 36 per cent greater than in 1972.

Because of the Great Lakes and Weirton divisions supplied Granite City Steel's wide hot strip mill, the steel industry is increasing production.

In addition, close involvement with other industries have from other National Steel plants enabled Granite City Steel to keep blast furnaces running full while many of its own coke ovens were being rebuilt.

Environmental Quality Control—Enroute to becoming one of the most pollution-free steel mills in the U.S., Granite City Steel is completing a comprehensive, state-approved $4-plus million program to significantly reduce emissions from coke oven and sintering operations.

The principal element in the state-approved program is an advanced, automatic coke oven coal charging system, the first of its kind to be installed anywhere.

The new system features remote-controlled magnetic oven lid lifters, and creates a suction to greatly reduce the amount of smoke that can escape as pulverized coke is charged into the oven tops.

Plans for additional coke oven emission controls are under way presently.

Emissions from primary iron and steel making units were brought under control in the late 1960s.

Three-stage contaminant collection-scrubbing system eliminates all but a tiny fraction of dust from blast furnace emissions.

A massive gas cooling and cleaning system, which treats the basic oxygen furnace plant was under construction, traps about 95.5 per cent of the dust from the steelmaking systems.

The GCS Environmental Quality Control Department oversees major environmental research, engineering and capital expenditures—and conducts ongoing monitoring and maintenance programs to assure the effectiveness of the mill's many emission control systems.

The department has a staff of professional chemists and engineers, and operates an extensive environmental laboratory.

Granite City Steel is a full partner in one of the most significant programs undertaken in the U.S. to recycle municipal solid waste effectively and economically.

In November 1973, GCS took delivery of the first load of ferrous metallic scrap extracted magnetically from steel mill scrap.

The materials, mostly scrap cans, can be recycled into GCS blast furnaces or the BOF—demonstrating an entirely new market for such refuse and helping to establish the feasibility of recovery on a massive areawide scale.

Combustible refuse from the experimental burning in electric utility boilers to generate electricity.

The success of this program led the electric power utility, Union Electric Company of St. Louis, to announce plans to finance, own and operate a new $10 million project goes into operation in mid-1977.

Markets And Products—St. Louis is the main gateway to growth areas in the South and Southwest, and Granite City Steel supplies many steel users in those areas as well as in the Midwest.

GCS's flat rolled products are shipped in coils and cut lengths that range in thickness from .0105 of an inch black plate to 1/4-inch plate.

About 55 per cent of the rolled sheet consists of hot rolled sheet and plate. The other 45 per cent is about equally divided between cold rolled and galvanized (zinc-coated) products.

Shipments are by rail and truck; the remainder are loaded onto barges at the company's dock on the Mississippi River canal 1 1/2 miles from the plant.

Product applications for flat rolled steel are virtually endless.

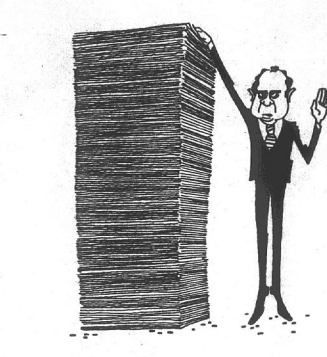

Flat rolled products are used in everything from farm implements, household appliances, large and small, garden tools, furniture, metal signs, automobiles, frames, hardware, containers and by the construction industry.

Granite City Steel is a leading producer of galvanized steel roofing and siding; its Strongbar and Strongpanel products are used in farm buildings throughout the U.S.

Community Impact—Granite City and steel are synonymous. The town grew up around the mill.

Legislative jargon in a class by itself

By ROBERT E. ESTILL
SPRINGFIELD—Legislators have a language all their own.

The problem is even some of them don't understand it. With the legislature into its annual oratorical outing, it seems appropriate to offer a carefully cultivated collection of clichés to aid layman and lawmaker alike in determining what is meant from what is said.

"Merely a bill" (As in "It is merely a bill to") "I say this, maybe they won't bother to read it and find out it makes homosexuality mandatory, imposes a death penalty for jaywalking and doubles the budget."

"Pork barrel bill" "It may pump funds into his district but what does it do for me?"

"Vital and pressing legislation" "This ought to be gone for a few votes back home."

"Strong grassroots support" "What idea of my constituents want it."

"Exercise fiscal restraint" "Let's chop the governor's budget."

"Ensure quality legislators" "Let's raise our pay."

"Special interest legislation" "I don't care how much his people want it; my constituents think it stinks."

"Dilatory tactics" "I've had my say; why don't you guys who haven't the good settled in the community, Granite City Steel has always been the largest employer.

That distinction has taken on added significance in recent years.

The merger brought new strength to GCS and, in turn, more jobs, more payroll and more money to the communities around the plant. At a time when overall employment in the St. Louis region was on the decline.

The plant payroll for December 1973 was 53 per cent higher than for December 1971.

Another $39,000,000 went for the purchase of raw materials, goods and services from suppliers in the St. Louis region.

GCS also pays about one-third of the total property taxes collected in the Township and City of Granite City, and is believed to be the largest single taxpayer in Madison County, Ill.

A major factor in the Tri-Cities economy for many years, Granite City Steel is looking forward to making an even greater contribution to the area's future development.

"This is an idea that's time has come" "He's got his hands strong for it, and I'll be going if it doesn't come."

"The sponsor will close debate" "He's got his hands strong for it, and I'll be going if it doesn't come."

"The poorest example of newspaper reporting I've ever seen" "Wonder how they found out about that?"

Statesmanship by Lewis and Clark, citizens would discourage petitions forcing a pointless and costly special election on Belleville College

If logic and fair play prevail, the Illinois Community College Board on June 21 will vote to reaffirm its earlier decision assigning the Granite City Community Unit School District to Belleville Area College. This is the same college which will begin serving the Venice, Madison, and Collinsville school systems Aug. 1.

Affiliation with BAC was the joint recommendation of local school authorities and state college planners after exhaustive studies of all possible courses of action.

Following formal state authorization, BAC began detailed plans to establish Granite City, Madison, Venice and Collinsville classes this September.

Despite a virtually unanimous public hearing in Venice at which 100 Quad-Cityans reviewed the issue for an entire afternoon, petitioners—at the instigation of several Lewis and Clark Community College students—utilized a provision of the state law to force a new hearing in Granite City.

The action by a small number of petitioners focused on the Granite City district alone, although all geographic areas of the Quad-City community favor a unified approach, rather than division of the Quad-Cities into two college districts.

About 70 attended the second hearing and the sentiment was solidly for BAC affiliation with the exception of three Lewis and Clark students and an official of Lewis and Clark.

Despite the near-unanimity that prevailed again, including submission of more than 800 signatures favoring BAC, the hearing advised the dissenters' cause in two ways: it requires the ICCB to take another look at its decision regarding Granite City in June, and it sets the stage for possible petitions to force a delay and a special election.

The simple fact is that if 50 or more sign petitions in July requesting a referendum, one will be held and Granite City affiliation with BAC will be delayed.

Delay apparently would be the only thing accomplished, since all yardsticks that can be applied indicate there would be a heavy vote for Belleville Area College, rather than to detach Granite City from it.

Disadvantages of a vote, aside from delayed BAC services, would be the cost to taxpayers of conducting the special election, and a severe financial squeeze on Granite City school services during the period District Nine must meet tuition costs while in a college affiliation "vacuum."

Such negative petitions would make no sense, as must be realized by Lewis and Clark President Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, whose comments and silences at several points in recent months may have encouraged some of his students and staff members to contemplate playing a destructive role.

It would be an act of statesmanship on Mr. Trimpe's part if he were to publicly and privately counsel them against circulating anti-BAC petitions this summer.

Tour of vast Granite City Steel facilities an awe-inspiring experience

"Hog butcher for the world, tool maker, stacker of wheat. Player with railroads and the nation's freight hauler."

"Stormy, husky, brawling, City of the Big Shoulders."

Carl Sandburg was writing about Chicago in 1916, but his words came to the minds of some Quad-Cityans last weekend when they toured the brawny, "big shoulders" industry known as the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation.

One cannot fully convey the awesome dimensions of the powerful machines and modern processes utilized here on an around-the-clock basis to produce millions of tons of versatile, high-quality steel each year.

Granite City and its largest industry stand tall among the giants of the world in one of mankind's most gigantic and useful enterprises.

Poor traffic surface plaguing Quad-City motorists at many locations

Gasoline shortage woes may have eased, but Quad-City motorists continue to encounter problems, judging by their comments.

Chuckholes appear to be more numerous than usual in traffic surfaces, creating hazards for vehicles and their occupants.

Continuing trouble spots include the McKinley Bridge between Venice and St. Louis, the Granite City intersection of Emert Avenue and Maryville Road, and numerous locations in Nameoki Township.

Patriotism, faith in democracy urged

To the Editor:

The office of patriotic instructor is a key office in the Daughters of Union Veterans organization and its work holds great significance for now and for the future.

Through the education of the youth of our land, we can succeed in spreading the story of the deeds and heroism of our American soldiers.

The Daughters of Union Veterans are taught "to respect the flag, our country and government—to matter which party controls the United States, Republicans or Democrats."

Being a patriotic American means to the DUV members to be loyal to this great country and to believe in the principles for which it stands.

"Breathes there the man with soul so dead, who never to himself had said, 'This is my own, my native land.'"

Citizens are ashamed, timid and even apologetic. We seem to have cancerous decay.

Patriotism should be a symbol of unity no matter what color you are, what political party you prefer, or what religious organization you belong to.

Patriotism should stand for the best that is in our souls—faith in our democracy, character and loyalty.

Let us go back to spiritual and ethical values and re-kind the old-fashioned way of patriotism.

It doesn't cost a cent. I believe it's our only beacon of light.

Multiplier 'frozen' to avoid tax rise

To the Editor:

In response to inquiries on the property tax assessment multiplier, when the present state administration took office it discovered practices which had resulted in great inequities in the real estate multiplier.

There were indications of political favoritism. For example, work sheets had been tampered with.

Eliminating that favoritism and bringing all counties into strict compliance with the law would have resulted in sharp increases in real estate taxes.

To prevent a real estate tax increase, the multiplier was frozen. It remains frozen.

However, the freezing of the multiplier leaves one inherent problem unsolved: unfair tax burdens on real estate taxpayers.

This is a problem which must be addressed—and is being addressed by the Joint Subcommittee to study the property tax.

I have discussed this matter with the governor, and this administration will not support any changes in the multiplier system which would require increases in local property taxes.

Crisandra Mhoon becomes Mrs. Jeffrey Underwood

Glad Tidings Pentecostal Church in Caseyville, Ill., was the scene of the wedding on May 4 of Miss Crisandra Lee Mhoon, a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Mhoon, 2720 Cliff Drive, Fairview Heights, and Jeffrey Lynn Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Underwood, 3204 Willow Ave. Three candelabra with a unity candle, festooned with roses and carnations, illuminated the sanctuary for the 2:30 p.m. double ring ceremony. The Rev. Douglas Carroll officiated. Nuptial selections were provided by Randy Jones, Deon Unthank and Janice Lloyd. For her wedding, the bride chose a full skirted gown laced down the center front, with long lace sleeves and a high collar. A long train was attached to a cathedral length. She wore a mantilla veil and held a bridal bouquet of spring flowers. Mrs. Dottie Bodewitz, matron of honor, chose a maroon colored dress designed with short puff sleeves and accented with narrow lace edging at the hemline. GRANITE CITY STEEL OPEN HOUSE during the weekend was highlighted by plant tours by an estimated 9,000 persons. Chartered buses carried visitors to and from each part of the 447-acre plant area. At the tour stops, representatives of each plant facility welcomed the guests and explained the process they were about to see. There were souvenirs for all, including brochures about Granite City Steel, posters showing progress against pollution, plus steel serving trays, litter bags and, for youngsters, Mark Steel comic books.

Sounds, sights astound thousands as they are shown how steel is produced

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Visitors to Granite City Steel's open house during the weekend who had not had a previous opportunity to tour the plant seemed to be astounded by what they saw.

Underneath the somewhat drab grey metal buildings was unveiled some of the largest, fastest moving equipment in the world. The equipment awed many by its sheer size, weight, sound and, in some cases, its fury.

Visitors were boarded onto comfortable Bi-State Transit System chartered buses and a company representative on each bus explained the tour route.

From the bus, the visitors saw giant coke oven batteries where coal is heated in the absence of oxygen to make coke, a nearly pure carbon.

Most visitors witnessed the "push" of the coke from a hot oven into a quench car, with flames rising high as the fiery coke fell from the oven.

The quench car then moved to the quenching tower, where thousands of gallons of water poured down on the hot coke, causing a plume of white steam to rise high into the air.

The bus next passed the two giant blast furnaces, towering 18 stories above over the bus. Few visitors were able to witness a "tap" of a blast furnace, one of the most spectacular sights in the steelmaking process.

A tap occurs only once every four hours, so most did not see the tons of molten metal flowing from the furnaces.

Many watched the pouring of slag from railroad cars into areas where it is processed.

Excess metal is removed and resold by the processor to Granite City Steel.

From the blast furnace department, the buses transported visitors to the basic oxygen furnace (BOF) where molten pig iron from the blast furnaces, scrap metal, lime and other substances are mixed and an oxygen lance is lowered into the material.

Oxygen is forced into the substance at supersonic speed and a roar erupts from the furnace, followed by a shower of sparks as the oxygen and lime combine with carbon and other unwanted impurities in the molten metal and the resulting particles are literally blown from the top of the BOF.

Visitors' faces turned red and brows became wet from the heat of the furnace as it was tipped toward the viewing area so that some of the material could be poured.

After the "heat" was completed, the sight of molten metal, glowing brightly again was seen, this time as it was poured from the giant BOF into ingot molds.

Returning to the buses, visitors were taken to the soaking pits and were warned upon leaving the vehicles not to touch handrails in the area of the pits. The railings were warm because of the hot ingots being moved within inches of the handrail while being transported to the blooming mill.

Intense heat from the soaking pits, where the solid metal ingots bake to a uniform temperature throughout, caused most first-time viewers to turn away when a pit was opened for fear of singed eyebrows.

From the soaking pits, the ingots were taken by crane to the blooming mill, where the treatment they receive can only be termed "rough."

The ingots are squeezed between rollers, turned on their sides and squeezed again, hammered and banded until they have been transformed from a thick ingot into a long slab of glowing metal.

Another bus took visitors to the hot strip mill, where the slabs were transformed into rolled steel during a 1,900-foot journey through numerous roughing and finishing rollers, being squeezed into longer and thinner strips at each set of rollers.

At the end of the hot roll mill, seven finishing mill stands, computer controlled, squeeze the steel into the finished hot coil product.

The machines stand within inches of each other and each moves faster than the previous machine, compensating for the extra length of the steel as it is squeezed longer and thinner.

The steel still aglow from intense heat, moves into the rollers at about five miles per hour and bursts out of the final machine at between 35 and 40 miles an hour, leaping into the air like a snake as it moves into the cooling sprays.

After being cooled, it is wound into high speed into rolls, some ready for the cold strip mill to be made flatter and harder.

Visitors then toured the motor room, where giant electric motors provide power for the rolling mill.

The next stop was a refreshment stand, a welcome relief after the heat and noise of the previous hour or two.

After the refreshment stand, visitors were welcomed to a tent which displayed many of the products using Granite City steel.

The company also provided a display showing ways in which air pollution is controlled throughout the steel mill.

Supplementary tours were available for those wishing to see the North Plant area, where the cold rolled steel is processed, and the tin plating and galvanizing lines, where steel is moved at high speed through hundreds of yards of machinery, ending either as a coated roll or as one of many products, including galvanized siding material.

Even for those who work at the local plant, and for those who had toured it previously, the open house tour left images etched in memories which will not be forgotten.

The tour was so fascinating to many that numerous persons who visited the plant last Friday, including this reporter, returned Saturday to see it "one more time."

MAY BRIDE. Mrs. Mark Anthony Coy, the former Miss Debra Leigh Pinegar, who was married in an evening ceremony at St. John United Church of Christ. She is a daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Greene, 3508 Johnson Road.

Coy-Pinegar wedding at St. John United

Miss Debra Leigh Pinegar, a daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Greene, 3508 Johnson Road, and Mark Anthony Coy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walden Coy, 2724 Harvey Place, were united in marriage in an evening ceremony on May 17 at St. John United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner officiated at the 7 o'clock candlelight service before an altar adorned with arrangements of white, pink and blue summer flowers, interspersed with greenery.

Paul Mabrey sang "If," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Irene Barrick. Given in marriage by her brother, John Pinegar, the bride chose a floor length gown of white nylon sheer and Venice lace.

The Empire bodice was fashioned with a high stand up collar accented with a daisy Venice lace trim. Her full bishop sleeves were embellished with matching motifs that were repeated at random on the full skirt, which ended in a gathered flounce at the hemline.

She wore a Juliet cap to secure a mantilla veil of bridal illusion, edged with larger daisy appliques, and she held a off-side cascade of snow crystal poms, feathered pink carnations, blue daisies and baby breath.

Miss Pamela Morris, maid of honor, selected a blue gown designed with a molded bodice, a high neckline and short puff sleeves.

The very full skirt was created of ruffled tiers edged in a tiny gathered lace trim.

The bridesmaid, Miss Leanne Phillips, wore a pink frock designed exactly like that worn by the honor attendant.

Both the flower girl, Patricia Morris, and junior flower girl, Amy Lynn Lybarger, a niece of the bride, were given in full length white dresses.

All carried colorful bouquets of pink and blue daisy poms, baby breath and baby pom poms and the adult attendants wore wide brimmed picture hats.

Steve Giebe attended the groom as best man, Mike Garland was groomsman and Randy Ganz and Lance Kenney seated the guests.

David Corbett was the ringbearer and Miss Lisa Morris and Miss Julie Coy, a sister of the groom, served as candlelighters.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Coy received guests at a reception at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall immediately following the service.

A rehearsal dinner was served at Ravanelli's Restaurant for members of the bridal party and their families, followed by a pre-wedding party hosted by the groom's parents in their home.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Pinegar is employed as a clerk in the medical records department at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. Coy works in the coke oven department of Granite City Steel.

After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Granite City.

Mrs. Greene, mother of the bride, chose a long blue floral gown. The groom's mother, Mrs. Coy, was attired in a formal length dress in peach.

Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

Old Cathedral scene of Bourisaw-Walsh nuptials

Miss Pamela Ann Walsh became the bride of Daniel Alan Bourisaw in a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. May 17 at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Glennon Walsh, 9229 Lawndale Ave., Crestwood, Mo. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Bourisaw, 3235 Classic Ave., Florissant, Mo., formerly of Granite City. Officiating at the candlelight service was the Rev. Richard Heman, pastor of Our Lady of Providence Church in Crestwood.

Nuptial selections included "Something," "Colour My World," "Without You" and "What the World Needs Now," played on the flute by Diana Bourisaw, sister of the groom. She was accompanied by the church organist.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white organza over ivory fashioned with a sheer, sweetheart style edged with Cluny lace. Lace created the high neckline and matching lace detailed the long gathered sleeves to form a wide cuff and marked the Empire waistline. The slightly full skirt had a double shirred ruffle trimmed in lace encircling the hem.

A mantilla veil edged in lace was held in place with a delicately designed Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses and daisies intermingled with stephanotis and baby breath.

Maid of honor, Miss Sharon Konrad, and bridesmaid, Miss Donna Elaine Bourisaw, a sister of the groom, wore identical dresses of light blue cotton voile laced with tiny yellow flowers.

Their gowns were made with fitted sleeveless bodices and V-necklines lined with Cluny lace. They wore complementing long sleeve jackets and light blue straw picture hats. Each held a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and white carnations interspersed with blue corn flowers.

Jennifer Collins, the flower girl, appeared in a blue frock similar in design to those worn by the adult attendants. She carried a matching nosegay. The groom chose Bob Marr as his best man. Mike Reed was groomsmen and Brad and Kevin Walsh, brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Walsh, mother of the bride, selected a beige chiffon gown, full length, worn with a long sleeve beaded jacket. The groom's mother, Mrs. Bourisaw, was attired in a powder blue formal length dress enhanced with a lattice trim and short sleeves. Both mothers wore yellow tea rose corsages.

Guests were received by the newlyweds at a reception held at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn, St. Louis, immediately following the ceremony.

A rehearsal dinner was served at Crest House in St. Louis.

After a wedding trip to the Missouri Ozarks, the couple moved to Columbia, Mo., where both are enrolled at Missouri University.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Russ Garrett of Denham, Tex.; Kerry Schmidt of Shelbyville, Mo.; Wade Schollemyer of Jefferson City, Mo.; John Vargas of San Jose, Costa Rica; the groom's grandparents, William Quinn and Mrs. Mary L. Bourisaw, of Granite City; and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Cecelia Kummerle.

Recital by Miss Hightower

Miss Deborah Hightower, Granite City, will present her senior music recital at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, May 25, in the Lovejoy Library auditorium at Edwardsville.

The program will include works of A. Adam, M. Cesti, F. Schubert and Ned Rorem, a contemporary composer.

MRS. DANIEL BOURISAW, who was married in an evening ceremony at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis. She is the former Miss Pamela Ann Walsh, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glennon Walsh of Crestwood, Mo.

Plan party at nursing home

Mrs. Dorothy Wallace gave the devotional lesson at a meeting of Lydia Circle of the Nameoki United Methodist Church held in the home of Mrs. Mary Bailey, 2246 Lynch Ave. She used excerpts from "Take My Life and Let It Be" by Frances L. Abigail and "To Find Yourself Is to Give Yourself" by Norman Vincent Peale. She also read Rudyard Kipling's poem entitled "If" in conclusion.

Scripture references from the Book of John, Chapter 14, were read by Mrs. Vergie Barks, followed by recitation of "Peace In My Heart," a poem by Mrs. Pamela York of Granite City. Opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Helen Metcalf and the business session was conducted by Mrs. Barks, chairman.

The afternoon business session was conducted by Mrs. Joan Wright, CPS, president of the Illinois Division, and the evening festival included a social hour and banquet.

Plans were made to participate in the church fall bazaar and to host a birthday party on Monday for patients at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses to nine members and four guests, Mesdames Dorothy Sinnott, Laura Fahnest, Nellie Jones of Sparta, Ill., and Luann Briner, president of the Nameoki United Methodist Women.

Members attending included Mesdames Violet Miller, Viola Thornberry, Helen Metcalf, Jessie Sayers, Marian Whitaker, Lucille Russell and those named.

The annual meeting concluded with a brunch and a final business session. Campaign will be the site for the 1974 Illinois Division meeting and the 1976 meeting will be held in Springfield, it was announced.

Thunderstorms, lightning and strong winds failed to dampen the spirits of the 350 Scouts and leaders of the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) district who held a camp-o-ree at Beaver Dam State Park during the weekend. The Scouts checked in Friday evening, set up their campsites by patrols and made ready for a weekend of fun, training and competition. Emphasis of the camp-o-ree was placed on patrol operation. A patrol is a group of four to eight scouts with several patrols making up a troop. Patrols were judged on how well they worked together in camping, cooking and skill events, all under a boy leader known as a patrol leader. The top two patrols in a field of 49, based on total points in activities and camping skill were the Fox and Flaming Arrow, both of Troop 102 sponsored by the Suburban Baptist Church.

Veterin scout leader G. Rollin Henn served as chief judge. Working with Henn were Dr. Thomas Layloff, district chairman; Norman Kinder, camp-o-ree chairman; W. F. "Mick" Strange, district camping chairman; Mark Yehling, district executive; John Schrader, district commissioner; Albert Barnes and Dwight Smith, both neighborhood commissioners. A field mass for Catholic scouts and a general Protestant service were held Saturday afternoon. Compass reading, blindfold tent pitching, observation, and knot tying were a few of the scout skill events held Saturday morning under the leadership of J. Richard Hooks, assisted by several members of the leadership corps and members of Explorer Post 10-4. Eight members of Explorer Post 10-4, under the direction of La Kevin Kearns, served as the headquarters service unit. Games designed to emphasize patrol cooperation were played during the afternoon, directed by Explorers Bruce Rotter, Kearns, and the leadership corps. A fun-filled campfire session led by Mike Bilbrey of Venice, chief of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, took place Saturday evening with the scouts presenting several original skits. After Sunday breakfast and final inspection, scouts and their leaders gathered at the headquarters area for presentation of awards. Deputy Sheriffs Robert Henke and Charles Zukas, representing the Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association, sponsors of the camp-o-ree, presented each scout and leader with a seven-colored emblem specially made for the event, along with ribbons for first, second and third place to each patrol, depending on the patrol's level of achievement.

Mary Neumann accepts degree

Mary Ann Neumann, 1551 Cottage Ave., Granite City, received the bachelor of business administration degree at the 59th annual commencement exercises of Southern Methodist University this week in Dallas, Tex. A total of 2,700 degrees, including more than 1,200 advanced degrees, were conferred during the ceremony in Moody Coliseum by SMU President Paul Hardin. The total, the largest in the university's history, includes August and December graduates as well as those who completed their work this month.

Auto crash victim father of GC woman

Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at the Dupo Pentecostal Church for Donney Wood, 88, of Venedy, father of Mrs. Ellie Smith of Granite City. He died Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville, of injuries received in a car-truck accident on U. S. 460 near Freeburg. His wife, Mrs. Annie Wood, is a patient at the hospital where she is being treated for injuries sustained in the accident. Other survivors include three sons and two other daughters.

TOP TWO PATROLS at the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) District camp-o-ree were the Fox and the Flaming Arrow, both of Troop 102 sponsored by the Suburban Baptist Church. Presenting their first place ribbons and patches from left to right are Deputies Robert Henke and Charles Zukas, representing the Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association which sponsored the event; Brad Taylor, patrol leader of the Fox patrol; Bob Azari, senior patrol leader, and Mick Gerstner, patrol leader for the Flaming Arrows. (Press-Record Photo)

TAKING A BREAK from a busy weekend, local Boy Scout leaders relax from the camp-o-ree schedule at Beaver Dam State Park. Clockwise around the table are Laverne Larsen, Troop 5, sponsored by the Nameoki Methodist Men; Joseph Veizer, Troop 12, sponsored by Niedringhaus PTA; Otto Fischer, Troop 12; Pat Busch, Troop 5; Robert Moske, Troop 5; and Marvin Wiedemer, troop 13. (Press-Record Photo)

350 at scout camp-o-ree

TOPSY TURVY TIME, a vertigo test in which each scout had to hold a wooden staff on his chin, turn around ten times and then run to a given point, was one of the most popular activities at the Uniwah District Boy Scout Camp-o-ree. The Eagle Patrol of Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph's Catholic church, clockwise from center, are Kevin Harmon, Tim Geister, Gerry Drees, Dan Manoogian, with clipboard, leadership corps member of Troop 99 supervising the event, Tom Groshong, Richard Buecker, and Darren Geister. (Press-Record Photo)

BLINDFOLD TENT PITCHING tested the ability of the Panther patrol of Troop 1, sponsored by the Venice Lions Club, to work together in a difficult situation. From left are John Miller, Bob Meyer, leadership corps member of Troop 35, supervising the event; Louis Bisto, Frank Pace and Tim Ponce. Behind Bisto is Eric Thornburg, of Troop 35 leadership corps. Fuel request

deadline June 1

June 1 is the deadline for wholesale purchasers of fuel products to request an increase in fuel allocations, according to James W. Cook, Illinois Energy Coordinator.

Cook said, "The next ten days are urgent for people who normally buy large amounts of fuel and feel that their 1972 allocations will not meet their 1974 demands."

Because of the energy crisis, the federal government mandated in January 1972, that wholesale purchasers of fuel products be allowed to buy only the amount of fuel bought during the same month in 1972. The regulations permit, however, that some wholesalers may request more fuel if their business has grown ten percent per year.

Information and applications for increased allocations may be filed with the supplier before June 1, Cook said.

Ask the Governor

Q. What is being done to further the education of residents of corrections facilities in Illinois?

A. Education of residents is the full-time responsibility of the Superintendent of the State Prison, District Number 428 and his staff. The district operates within the state Department of Corrections. Special school districts within corrections departments also exist in five other states. But in no other state does a corrections department school district have the authority and scope that were given District Number 428 when it was created in 1972.

This district determines education needs, types of schools (elementary, secondary, adult, vocational, special) and curriculum in all state correction facilities.

The two-fold philosophy guiding the school district is: 1) all persons should have the opportunity for a full education even if imprisoned and 2) learning will take place only when a student becomes motivated to learn.

The school district staff is recommending that education become a higher priority in the correction facilities than in the past—that wardens and their staff encourage more residents to participate, increase the amount of study and class time, and allow residents to take part in a combination of education, vocational courses and the prison industry, rather than choosing only one assignment.

To help residents develop basic reading, communication and math skills, learning laboratories have been installed in five institutions, with labs planned for four others. These permit individual instruction, necessary because of the range of education backgrounds, and will eventually make it possible to discontinue the typical classroom situation for at least grades one through seven.

Better libraries and audio-visual services are also being planned. To help residents understand themselves and others, the district has already begun to strengthen its guidance centers by hiring professional vocational counselors, and plans to hire educational counselors. Certified teachers are being hired to replace inmates and guards who have been serving as instructors.

To help residents develop skills useful in obtaining employment, the school district is considering contracting with community colleges to teach vocational and technical skills. This is now being done on a small scale in some institutions.

The school district plans to establish a pilot program to determine the feasibility of conducting high school credit courses including courses leading to a high school diploma. Currently elementary courses are geared toward GED (General Educational Development) preparation, equivalent to coursework through the tenth grade. This does not meet the needs of inmates without high school diplomas who have already excelled beyond the tenth grade.

Higher education will not be overlooked by the district. Courses at a few junior colleges and universities are available to residents, however, few institutions will grant degrees. Lewis College and Southern Illinois University are the exceptions. The district will be working with institutions of higher learning to make associate and baccalaureate degrees available in as many correction facilities as possible.

What would you like to know about state government? Gov. Dan Walker welcomes your questions. Some, with the answers, may appear in this column. Letters must give the writer's name and address. Upon request your name will be withheld. Send to: ASK THE GOVERNOR, Illinois Information Service, 201 W. Monroe St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

GC Steel hearings to continue into June

Hearings are to continue next month on a request by Granite City Steel for a third one-year variance to complete installation of pollution control equipment for its coke oven facilities, it was announced this week.

Hearings are set for Monday, June 10, at 9:30 a.m., and Tuesday and Wednesday, June 11 and 12, starting at 9 a.m.

If additional hearings are required, June 27 and 28 have been reserved as possible dates. All hearings are to be held in the Illinois Room of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency wants the steel company to agree to install a "roof" or full hood over the coke oven pushing sides which would catch emissions from the pushing operation and from the quench car, similar to a system used at Great Lakes Carbon in St. Louis.

The company has proposed several alternatives including smaller movable hoods with "scrubber" units to clean the air caught.

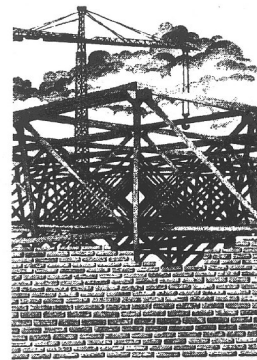

Only the company's witnesses have been heard thus far in the hearings and the state is expected to begin its case next month.

'Y' refurbished, rates revised; summer youth activity schedule

Fred Cunningham Jr., president of the YMCA, said today that "we have four new things at the 'Y'. They are designed for the summer of 1974 with youth in mind.

"First: Painting and redecorating of the entrance and lobby of the YMCA has brightened the inside of the building.

"Along with a concerted report to clean, wash and dust all of the areas, the 'Y' is looking brighter and fresher," Cunningham related.

"Second: A summer program aimed at youth has been scheduled. There will be three three-week sessions: June 10-20-21st session; July 1-6-12th session; July 29-Aug. 17-3rd session.

"Third: A new membership rate schedule has been approved as of June 1, 1974, as follows:

Youth - ages 7-17-$30 per year, $3 per month.

Young adult - ages 18-25-$40 per year, $4 per month.

Adult - ages 26 and over-$60 per year, $6 per month.

Health club - men and women-$80 per year, $9 per month.

Regular family-$120 per year, $12 per month.

Health club family-$150 per year, $14 per month.

Cunningham continued. "The family includes all members of the family living in the same household.

"Fourth: With a new executive director, there is a renewed sense of dedication on the part of all the staff and employees at the 'Y'.

"Everyone is at the 'Y' to serve the members-to help them grow and develop, and to enjoy themselves.

"Who said there could not be something new in a 50-year-old YMCA?"
